

Single Flight Daily Gets CAB Approval

First Plane to Land at County Port July 1

The Civil Aeronautics board in Washington today gave additional approval to North Central's request for 1-flight-a-day service to the Outagamie county airport and the first plane will land there at 11:04 a. m. July 1.

James Durfee, CAB chairman, today notified William H. Pifer, chairman of the Appleton Chamber of Commerce airport committee, that certification for the route requested by North Central has been approved conditionally until the Marshfield airport is ready. Then the CAB expects North Central to provide service over the Minneapolis-Eau Claire - Marshfield - Appleton-Milwaukee-Chicago route as originally ordered.

Details of flight schedules and plans for ceremonies marking start of service were announced today by airlines officials.

Hal N. Carr, North Central president, will be aboard the first flight, No. 451, and will give a short talk after the plane touches down at the county port.

Needs Mental Treatment

Gov. Long Fights But Enters Hospital

Baton Rouge, La.—P—Gov. a drugged and unwilling Gov. Earl K. Long of Louisiana earned May 30 to a psychiatric battle all the way with sheriff's clinic at John Sealy hospital iff's deputies last night as they in Galveston, Texas, but nothing hauled him to a mental hospital for the second time in three weeks.

"I'm not going to get in there," he yelled when they tugged him into a sheriff's car to take him to Southeast Louisiana (mental) State hospital at Mandeville, 50 miles to the east.

The 63-year-old governor swung a roundhouse right at a deputy. He missed.

"You-all look, you-all look," he shouted.

Dr. Chester Williams, coroner of East Baton Rouge parish (county), said Gov. Long suffered from delusions of persecution. The medical name is paranoid schizophrenia.

Gov. Long remained unconvinced that he needed hospital treatment.

"I don't feel I need to be hospitalized," he told physicians at the Mandeville institution.

Dr. Charles Beicher, acting superintendent of Southeast, indicated last night that Gov. Long must remain in his hospital at least 30 days.

This latest chapter in the weird and tragic story of Earl Kemp Long pitched Louisiana politicians into additional jitters. Who is to take over the duties of governor?

Lt. Gov. Lethier Frazier—it is supposed—will step into the breach, as he did when members of the Long family flew

Silver Sluggers School Set for Appleton Boys

The Milwaukee Braves Silver Sluggers school for 1959 will take place Thursday and Friday June 25 and 26, at Appleton's Goodland field. It is primarily a school to teach some of the finer points of baseball to young men ages 16-21. Anyone interested in tips on all the positions by experts of the Braves coaching staff are invited to attend.

Complete information on the school can be found in tonight's sports section. The Silver Sluggers school is sponsored in this area by the Appleton Post-Crescent.

Erhard Tells Party He May Quit Office

Bonn —P— Ludwig Erhard threatened today to resign as West Germany's economics minister. He spoke at a caucus of the Christian democratic party called to discuss the aftermath of Konrad Adenauer's decision to stay on as a chancellor, a job for which Erhard had been bidding.

"Someone is systematically trying to degrade my reputation," said Erhard, leaving little doubt he meant Adenauer.

Erhard, often hailed as the architect of West Germany's postwar recovery, spoke up angrily at a caucus hastily called to discuss an interview with Adenauer published yesterday. This New York Times story said Adenauer repeated previous statements that Erhard is too lacking in political experience to hold down the post of chancellor. Adenauer did call Erhard a "very talented man."

Scores Attacks

Erhard told the caucus he would not be satisfied with a denial of the story.

"Behind all this there is method," Erhard said.

"If this sort of thing turns up in the glare of publicity of the world press, some of it is bound to stick."

Adenauer, the 83-year-old chancellor, was asked specifically not to attend the caucus of the Christian democrats, a Roman Catholic party dominant in West German politics.

Khrushchev Voices Treaty Threat With Summit Demand

Denies Ultimatum but Pledges Full Backing to East Germans

Moscow —(AP)— Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev said today in Moscow a summit meeting becomes all the more necessary if the Geneva meeting of foreign ministers breaks down.

He expressed confidence a conference of heads of state will take place.

"We hold," he said at a mass rally in the Kremlin for a visiting East German delegation, "that if the foreign ministers do not reach agreement in Geneva a meeting at the summit will become all the more necessary."

"I would be glad to go, not only to one but several summit meetings."

He said the 1-year Soviet time limit set for a solution of the Berlin dispute "can be discussed" and never was meant to be an ultimatum.

At the same time he warned the west the allied occupa-

"The soviet government," he said, "wants to sign a peace treaty with a united sovereign German state, but if this is not possible—and if the west continues to hinder the settlement of the German question—nothing remains for the Soviet Union but to sign a peace treaty with one Sovereign state."

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko today refused to accept the west's latest

Pay Boost Bill Goes to Nelson

Madison —P— The senate concurred today in an assembly bill calling for pay increases for state employees, department heads and University of Wisconsin and state college faculty members.

The increases would range from $10 to $35 a month.

Addition of a last minute amendment returned the bill to the assembly. That house quickly agreed to the change and the bill then was sent to Gov. Gaylord Nelson.

Sen. Jesse Miller, R-Richland Center, offered the amendment. It singles out E. L. Roettiger, state highway engineer for a pay increase of $500 from his present $14,000 a year salary.

Queen to Open Airport Building in Newfoundland

Gander, Newfoundland—P—Queen Elizabeth II and Prince Philip flew here today to open a new $3½ million airport terminal building. Gander is a stopping point for transatlantic airliners.

A royal Canadian Air Force plane landed them after a 45-minute flight from St. Johns.

The queen, opening a 6-week journey across Canada, confronted one of the most grueling programs in her hard-working reign. She received a cordial but restrained welcome at St. Johns yesterday.

For a few hours it appeared her weather luck had deserted her and that grim grey fog which smothered St. Johns for three days might disrupt the tour. The thick mist lifted miraculously a few hours before she arrived by jet airplane from London yesterday afternoon. The skies were virtually cloudless and warm sunshine flooded the bleak, heavily wooded region around the city.

The weather held until the afternoon's appearances ended. Then swiftly a huge murky veil settled over St. Johns again and air traffic stopped.

Later in the night, however, the wind shifted and the skies cleared.

New Clue in Hartley Case

Negro's Fingerprints Checked in Mystery

Milwaukee —P— The long year - old Evelyn Hartley six years ago has never been solved, but authorities never have ceased efforts to crack the case.

Bloody fingerprints on the La Crosse home where the Hartley girl was baby-sitting have long been considered key evidence. Police are endeavoring to determine if they match those of a Negro believed to have been in the La Crosse vicinity at the time the girl disappeared in 1953.

Tennis Shoes Found

The Hartley girl disappeared while baby sitting at the home of Viggo Rasmussen, a La Crosse State college professor. She was the daughter of Dr. Richard Hartley, biology professor at the college. It was believed she was slain by a sex maniac although her body never was found.

A bloody set of partial prints was found on the wall of the house next door to the Rasmussen home. La Crosse police also found a pair of tennis shoes which they believe were worn by the girl's abductor. It was believed that the prints may have been left when the kidnaper was dragging the girl to a car.

The LaCrosse officials subsequently were told by the state crime laboratory that a Negroid hair was found in the tennis shoes.

Milwaukee police were asked to check the prints of the Milwaukeean because he quit his job here Oct. 22, 1953, two days before Evelyn disappeared and was not seen again for about three weeks.

President Says Nation Is Loser

Washington —P— President Eisenhower said today that the American people are the losers in what he called the sad episode of senate rejection of Lewis L. Strauss as secretary of commerce.

The grim-faced president took the highly unusual step of calling newsmen into his White House office to read a brief statement.

At the outset, Eisenhower noted that the senate last night refused to confirm Strauss for the cabinet post.

The turndown came in a dramatic post-midnight roll call, 49-46.

Eisenhower went on to praise Strauss warmly.

He called Strauss a man who has loyally, honorably and effectively served his nation under four presidents.

Eisenhower said further that if the nation is to be denied the right to have officials of proven ability and integrity in responsible government positions, then "indeed it is the American people who are the losers in this sad episode."

The statement was squarely in line with the position the president has taken throughout the long fight—that Strauss is an effective, dedicated and upright public servant.

Power Controversy

Opponents on the other hand had argued that Strauss had been devious and less than frank in his dealings with congress and the people.

The issue of public versus private power had also come into the affair through Strauss' connection as head of the atomic energy commission with the bitter Dixon - Yates controversy.

Eisenhower read his handwritten statement before a

Washington — P — Living costs hit a new peak in May. Small rises in prices for practically all types of consumer goods lifted the labor department's cost index one-tenth of 1 per cent from the April level.

At 124 per cent of the 1947-49 base period, the index was the highest it has ever reached. The prospect is for a further small increase during the summer months.

In reporting the figures today, the labor department said spendable earnings of factory workers, meaning their pay after federal tax deductions, also hit a record.

Higher Wages

The average for the factory worker heading a family of four was $81.03 a week. It was $73.49 for the single factory worker. These earnings each were 35 cents higher than the record set in April.

The department said the rise in spendable earnings was due both to longer working hours and higher pay rates.

The buying power of the worker is up about 9 per cent from a year ago because living costs have changed very little since then.

H. E. Riley, price chief for the department's bureau of labor statistics, said, the living cost index has been moving within an extremely narrow range for a year. The May index was only three-tenths of 1 per cent above the May, 1958, level.

In May, fractional increases were recorded for food, housing, clothing, medical care and personal care.

Approximately 190,000 aircraft workers will get a penny an hour pay boost based on the Max index.

Aid Recipients Must Know of File Checks

Madison —P— Gov. Gaylord Nelson signed into law Friday a bill providing that a welfare recipient whose public assistance record is inspected must be informed within 72 hours of the name and address of the person checking the file.

At present public assistance rolls are open to the public but there is no provision of notification to the person whose file is inspected.

Gov. Nelson said the law would aid in eliminating crank inspections.

House Votes Foreign Aid Operation Likely To Continue at About Present Level

Washington—P—House approval of a $3½ billion foreign aid authorization could mean operations at about the present level for another year, the program's supporters said today.

Because actual money must be provided in a separate appropriation bill later, the amount available after July 1 could be much less.

The house last night voted 271-142 for a $3,542,600,000 program slanted toward economic loans and partly away from military and economic grants.

Much legislative cutting and patching lies ahead, but in the deaths of two small Foreign Affairs Committee sons last year.

Housing Bill Cut To $1,375,000,000

Compromise Measure Expected To Win Ike's Approval, but May Have Rough Time in Congress

BY JOE HALL — Large grant authorizations for Washington — P— Leading Democratic and Republican senate spokesmen on housing legislation said today a compromise $1,375,000,000 housing bill should win the approval of President Eisenhower.

Senate — house conferees agreed on the omnibus bill Thursday after the Democratic majority cut the amount sharply to blunt GOP charges that the Democrats are reckless spenders.

Sen. John J. Sparkman (D-Ala.), chairman, and Sen. Homer E. Capehart (R-Ind.), senior Republican on the senate's housing subcommittee, both said they did not see why Eisenhower could not sign it.

Both houses must approve the compromise before it is sent to the president.

Fate in Doubt

Some Republicans on the conference committee assailed the compromise and insisted it still went beyond the president's recommendations in many respects. Their attitude left in doubt the eventual fate of the bill.

The conference report is scheduled to be called up first in the senate, probably early next week.

The compromise contains

Identifies MIGs That Shot U. S. Patrol Plane

Probably N. Korean, Secretary McElroy Tells Conference

Washington — P— The communist MIGs that shot up an American patrol plane over the Sea of Japan were more than likely North Korean, Sec. of Defense Neil H. McElroy says.

McElroy told a news conference yesterday he based that opinion on the direction from which the planes came.

In the area of the attack, 85 miles east of Wonsan, the jet fighters could have been manned by North Koreans, red Chinese or Russians. Planes of all three carry the red star insignia seen on the attackers.

McElroy said it was ridiculous to raise a fuss about whether the American patrol plane was adequately armed or not. Its World War II vintage guns "are not going to knock off a MIG anyway," he said.

The defense secretary said the really important thing about the incident was that the U. S. navy plane was on a peaceful mission over international waters and was jumped by "an irresponsible pair of fighters."

The U. S. plane's tail gunner was severely wounded by the attacking jets and the gun was knocked out before fire could be returned. Crew members agreed the attackers were Russian-built MIG15s or MIG17s.

A photograph of the enemy planes which one of the crewmen snapped in the confusion of the attack could pin down the nationality of the planes beyond doubt. The picture is being sent to Washington for evaluation.

Ike Praises Marshall at FHA Dinner

Washington — P— President Eisenhower heaped praise last night on his World War II army chief, Gen. George C. Marshall. He also lauded the federal housing administration.

Then president joined about 1,300 other diners at an industry salute to the FHA on its twenty-fifth birthday. In an informal talk he said the Home - Mortgage Insurance agency has a record of miraculous financial stability.

Eisenhower devoted much of his speech to praise of Marshall, now critically ill after suffering two strokes, and of Marshall's alma mater, the Virginia Military institution. The VMI cadet glee club entertained the diners earlier.

VMI, Eisenhower noted, has given to the armed services over the years many of their most distinguished members. He added:

"Among these distinguished members is a man who in World War II stood out as one of the great soldiers, and later, statesmen in our time: George Catlett Marshall."

"He was both a patriot, a distinguished soldier and the most selfless public servant that I ever met."

Marshall, after serving as army chief of staff, was secretary of state and later secretary of defense in the Truman administration.

Senate Kills Bill Calling Negligent Institutions Liable

Madison — P— The state senate Thursday night killed a bill that would have made charitable institutions liable for injuries incurred through negligence of an agent or employee.

Opponents argued religious, educational and scientific agencies supported by donations should remain exempt. After considerable debate, the measure died in a 21-12 vote.

The senate passed a measure that would permit a civil service commissioner to suspend a deputy sheriff or chief deputy on receipt of a written grievance against the officer.

Killed 17-15 was a bill that would have allowed high schools to limit their physical education programs to two years.

Famed Actress Ethel Barrymore, who died in her sleep Thursday in her Beverly Hills, Calif., home, is shown in three of her roles in the top picture. Below, she appears with her two equally famous brothers, Lionel, left, and John, when they played together in 1933 in the movie, "Rasputin and the Empress." She portrays a Mother Superior for a 1952 television program, upper left, the inspiring school teacher in the 1940 Broadway hit, "The Corn is Green," center, and the aged grandmother in "Whiteoaks" on Broadway in 1938.

Dyna-Soar Will Circle Earth in 1 1/2 Hours by '65

Bomber of Future Expected to Fly Faster, Higher Than Experimental X15

Los Angeles — P— Some- ready for its first flight test at time before 1965, a super X15 rocket ship called Dyna-Soar I will blast off from Cape Canaveral, Fla., circle the globe and land an hour and a half later at Edwards Air Force Base, Calif.

If it works, it could well be the bomber of the future. This insight into the highly secret Dyna - Soar program comes from Lt. Col. Harold G. Russell, test director of the Dyna - Soar program at Edwards.

Dyna - Soar is expected to fly faster and higher than the experimental X15, now undergoing tests at Edwards preliminary to an all - out attempt later this year to carry a man to the edge of space and back.

Bomber's Calendar

Col. Russell disclosed the following tentative calendar for Dyna - Soar I:

A contract to build the craft is expected to be awarded soon. Sometime in 1962, Dyna-Soar (an abbreviation for dynamic soarer) should be

Equal Time Law Forces TV, Radio Blackout on Campaign Coverage

Curtailment Inevitable Unless Rule Changed, States NBC Official

BY GEOFFREY GOULD — Washington — P— Robert W. Sarnoff, chairman of the board of the NBC network, today predicted a "political gag" on campaign coverage by radio and television unless the equal time law is changed.

The law is part of the federal communications act. It requires radio and television stations to give equal broadcast time to all political candidates, no matter how minor they may be.

As interpreted this year by the federal communications commission, the requirement applies even to mention of the better known candidates on newscasts. Industry spokesmen contend enforcement of it would cause stations to practically halt political campaign coverage.

Bill Passed Gives Judge Decision

Can Use Discretion In Juvenile Traffic Cases in State

Madison — P— A bill to permit a judge to use his own discretion in dealing with juveniles convicted of moving-traffic violations passed the assembly Thursday.

Present law requires a judge to suspend or revoke the license of anyone under 18 convicted of such a violation.

The measure also would permit the judge either to suspend or revoke a juvenile's driving license for second and subsequent offenses. Present law makes revocation mandatory.

The assembly killed a bill that would have stiffened speeding penalties. It would have permitted a jail term up to 30 days for anyone convicted of driving over 85 during the day or 80 at night.

Towns Setting Limits

Another bill permitting towns to set 25-mile-an-hour speed limits in built-up areas also was passed and sent to the senate.

Killed 82-13 was a bill that would have permitted publication of names of juveniles convicted of serious non-sex crimes.

Preliminary approval was given a Democratic bill that would add a consumer counsel to the governor's staff.

The assembly also defeated a bill that would have boosted out-of-state tuition at the University of Wisconsin from $200 to $400.

Canners Association supported the legislation.

Opponents of the bills included Red Owl Food stores, Kraft Foods and Wisconsin Manufacturers Association. It said some provisions make violations of the laws criminal offenses.

Sen. Henry Maier of Milwaukee chose Donnelly after floorleaders of both houses were asked to name one member each to the 19-man group.

Robert Travis of Platteville, GOP floorleader, has indicated he will select Sen. Harold Huijbregtse of Sheboygan Falls.

Assembly selections have not been announced.

Gov. Gaylord Nelson named 15 committee members two weeks ago. The group will be charged with submitting recommendations on tax structure revisions based on the findings of Nelson's tax impact study group.

Strauss Rejected as Commerce Secretary

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1 He hurried past waiting news- men, saying: "I'm late for the boss." Strauss did not go with the president to Eisenhower's of- fice after the conference. Loyal Service This was only the second time in his 61 years in office that Eisenhower has called newsmen into his office for such a session. The other oc- casion was in 1887 when he as he stepped from his car. spoke critically regarding congressional action on a foreign aid bill. Today, standing behind his big desk, the president read this statement: "Last night the senate refused to confirm the nomina- tion as secretary of commerce of Lewis Strauss—a man who in war and in peace has serv- ed his nation loyally, honor- ably and effectively under four different presidents. "I am losing a truly valu- able associate in the business of government. More than this—if the nation is to be denied the right to have as public servants in responsible posi- tions men of his proven char- acter, ability and integrity, then indeed it is the American people who are the losers through this sad episode."

There still was no indication what Eisenhower would do next about the commerce post. Strauss, former chairman of the atomic energy commis- sion, was the first cabinet nominee to be rejected by the senate since 1925, when Calvin Coolidge's choice of Charles B. Warren to be attorney gen- eral was turned down. Strauss became the eighth cabinet nominee to be rejected in all the nation's history.

The president arranged to see Strauss at the White House this morning. James C. Hagerity, presidential press secretary, said Eisenhower would issue a statement after that session.

Throughout the long fight Eisenhower defended his nom- inee as a dedicated, effective and upright public servant.

Power Controversy Opponents on the other hand accused Strauss of arrogant and devious dealings with con- gress and the people. There were also overtones of the public versus private power fight, stemming from Strauss' part as AEC chief in the bitter Dixon-Yates controversy.

When the showdown came, shortly after midnight, 31 Re- publicans and 15 Democrats voted for confirmation. Against confirmation were 47 Democrats and 2 Republicans.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas voted against Strauss, as did most other senators who had not disclosed their stand in ad- vance of the roll call. Wisconsin's senators split their vote. Republican Wiley voted for confirmation and Democrat Proxmire opposed it.

Strauss Statement Strauss issued a statement thanking Eisenhower and the senators who had voted for him and adding: "I have done the best I knew how to do—to protect and defend the national se- curity even when that was not the recognized, nor easy, nor popular course of action at the time.

"I leave with confidence that history will be just."

The outcome had been re- garded as in doubt right up to the last, and it hung in the balance almost until the final vote was recorded.

Johnson immediately asked that the president be notified

Mrs. Linda Voss, 17-Year-Old mother of triplets, ad- justs her cap for graduation exercises at Redlands, Calif., High school as husband David, 20, does a bit of diaper changing on one of the youngsters. The triplets, 9 months old, are, left to right, Steve, David and John.

Proud Day for Linda

Young Mother of Triplets Graduates From High School

Redlands, Calif.—Linda minding the youngsters. Her Sue Voss has a few things the mother helped with the chil- dren during the few hours a day when neither she nor her husband were home.

"Today is just about the proudest day of my life," said Linda, who gets her diploma today. "Nobody around here thought 'Id make it through school."

Task Turns The triplets—Johnny, David and Steve—were born last Sept. 17 to Linda and her hus- band, David, 20, a dairy work- er. At the time, Linda was about to enter her senior year. She was determined to graduate, so the school agreed to continue her in- struction at home.

She and David took turns — a customary courtesy to speed papers to the president once his nominations are con- firmed.

In this case, however, sen- ate attaches said that as soon as the president is officially notified of the senate's ac- tion, Strauss will go off the payroll.

Opposition Grew He has been serving as sec- retary of commerce since last November under a recess ap- pointment made by Eisen- hower while congress was not in session.

Strauss' nomination was submitted to the senate last Jan. 17. Opposition to it grad- ually gathered momentum during 16 days of stormy hearings by the senate com- merce committee, which last month recommended confir- mation by a 9-8 vote.

Debate got underway in the senate on June 5. It went on sporadically for two weeks. Then Johnson suddenly serv- ed notice shortly after the senate met at noon yesterday that the Democrats were ready to vote.

Delaying Tactics With three Republican sen- ators away, Strauss support- ers immediately began a round of delaying speeches from that period of highly unique performers."

Sens. Thurston B. Morton two brothers were born in (R-Ky), chairman of the GOP Philadelphia. Their parents were Maurice Barrymore, a rakish British actor, and George Drew, daughter of the Irish actor John Drew.

However, Sen. Milton R. Young (R-N.D.), another sup- porter of Strauss, was still winging his way to the capitol in a jet plane when the vote was taken.

But to balance off the ab- sence of Young, Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont) agreed to withhold his vote against Strauss in what the senate records as a parr.

The only senator not re- corded was Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.) who was reported by senate attaches to be ill.

By the time the vote came, the public galleries were fill- ed with spectators. Several senators were in evening in 1923, Miss Barrymore, a theater dead and I never ex- dinners and other functions.

proposals for a stopgap Berlin solution even as a basis of discussion.

A British delegation spokes- man said Gromyko advanced new proposals for an interim Berlin arrangement but these have given "no new hope" to the west for a solution.

"Mr. Gromyko has not ac- cepted the western proposals even as a basis for discussion, the British spokesman said.

"Furthermore the Soviet po- sition as put forward this af- ternoon by Mr. Gromyko, cou- pled with Mr. Khrushchev's speech has given no new hope to the western delegations for a solution."

May End Conference The British statement, echo- ed by other western delega- tions, was issued during an intermission between two se- cret sessions of the Big Four foreign ministers.

It immediately posed the likelihood that Sec. of State Christian A. Herter, British and French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville, would raise with Gromyko the question of recessing the con- ference.

Khrushchev today said the Soviet Union would go ahead and sign a peace treaty with communist East Germany "if the west continued to hinder the settlement of the German question."

Khrushchev, in a speech broadcast by Moscow radio, said the Soviet Union had ex- pressed its readiness to sign a peace treaty with "the Ger- man state which wanted it and the German Democratic Republic government (East Germany) had said it wanted a peace treaty."

Won't Be Stopped

Khrushchev said: "The Soviet Union regrets that the western powers do not want to sign a peace treaty, but the west should understand that nothing will hinder the Soviet Union from signing a treaty with the Ger- man Democratic Republic."

When such a treaty is signed, he said, "it will mean the end of the occupation of its (East Germany's) territory. "If attempts would be made by powers to maintain the occupation by force, the Soviet Union would support the G.D.R. with all means at its dis- posal, and would defend the G.D.R. as an ally of the War- saw pact."

Some people in the west, he went on, have "the illusion that conditions would remain the same after the peace treaty, and that communica- tions with Berlin would re- main."

Wants Meeting "But what foundation is there for this?"

"Any control of communi- cations would be carried out by G. D. R. personnel as rep- resentatives of a sovereign state and not, as the west says, as representatives of the Soviet Union."

"Any time limit suggested by the Soviet Union in its pro- posals can be discussed, they never were meant to be ulti- matum - like, and can be dis- cussed in a businesslike way. "All the pros and cons should be discussed—obvious- ly the two sides have to meet each other half way. The time limit is not the most im- portant thing. What is impor- tant is agreement on the main questions."

The Soviet premier said

"The Second Mrs. Tanque- national committee, and Wal- were Maurice Barrymore, a ray," "School for Scandal," "The Constant Wife," "The laced F. Bennett (R-Utah) the sped here by plane from the west in time to vote.

However, Sen. Milton R. Young (R-N.D.), another sup- porter of Strauss, was still winging his way to the capitol in a jet plane when the vote was taken.

But to balance off the ab- sence of Young, Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont) agreed to withhold his vote against Strauss in what the senate records as a parr.

The only senator not re- corded was Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.) who was reported by senate attaches to be ill.

By the time the vote came, the public galleries were fill- ed with spectators. Several senators were in evening in 1923, Miss Barrymore, a theater dead and I never ex- dinners and other functions.

flatly it was not possible to maintain the occupation reg- ime forever "and the time has come to put an end to it."

Assails West He said the west wanted to maintain occupation forever, even if a peace treaty with East Germany was signed, "though this is against com- mon sense."

He accused West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of wanting "the present dan- gerous situation in Germany to continue for many years but the Soviet Union does not want to prolong matters."

"It was only for this reason it has suggested a time limit," the premier said. "The Soviet Union had not expected such a stormy reaction to these proposals from the west."

To charges from the west that the Soviet action of set- ting a limit on the 4-power oc- cupation of Berlin is a threat, Khrushchev replied: "If this is a threat, the So- viet Union is proud of it . . . this is a strange kind of threat—a threat to make peace, not war."

Khrushchev said "shouts about threats and pressure"

came from Adenauer who has lost all measures of sense."

"Now I'm Really Regular!"

Are you troubled with constipation caused by lack of bulk? Wilson F. Burnham, Worcester, Mass., writes: "Years ago I was quite irregular. I tried Kellogg's All-Bran and have had the best of daily regularity ever since."

Kellogg's All-Bran is so effective because, unlike laxative drugs, it gives you good food bulk. Millions have discovered that just a half-cup of this whole bran cereal each morning provides all the bulk needed for safe, natural regularity.

Try Kellogg's All-Bran for 10 days—see if it doesn't work for you, too.

John Gunaca Goes to Prison

Judge Clarence Rinehard of Chippewa Falls has performed a service to the people of Wisconsin by sentencing John Gunaca to three years in Waupun for the brutal beating of two non-striking Kohler company employees.
On July 4, 1954 an automobile carrying three men was driven into a gasoline station at Sheboygan Falls operated by William Bersch, Sr. and his son, William, Jr. According to the testimony of William Bersch, Jr., the men in the automobile were "looking for trouble." The young Bersch had returned to work at the Kohler company about a week before. Bersch said the car was driven by Nick Vreckovic, a member of the striking Local 833 of the Kohler plant. Bersch said he recognized Vreckovic readily as he had worked with him for several years at Kohler. In the car also with Vreckovic was John Gunaca, according to Bersch. The third man he did not recognize and he has not been identified. The men in the automobile accused young Bersch of "scabbing" at Kohler. Bersch told Vreckovic that he was "just looking for trouble" and then Bersch entered the filling station office to telephone the police. However, while he was dialing the phone, he said, Gunaca entered the office behind him, jerked the cord out of his hand, tore the ends of the wire out of the box mounted on the wall of the station and then struck Bersch on the left temple, knocking him against an iron safe in the corner. While he was on the floor his father was attacked and so badly beaten that he later spent 18 months in a hospital. Sixteen months later he died. While Gunaca was not charged with causing the man's death young Bersch on the stand said that two doctors had told him there was "a cause and effect relationship" between the beating and the death. Gunaca offered no defense.
The crime was committed in 1954 but Gunaca was not brought to trial earlier because he left Wisconsin and returned to Michigan shortly after the beating. He had been in Sheboygan since April 19, 1954 under assignment by the shop committee of the UAW local at the Briggs Manufacturing company in Detroit. He could not be returned to Wisconsin because Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan repeatedly refused to sign the necessary extradition papers. When the National Labor Relations Board wanted Gunaca's testimony to complete its record on the Kohler strike it moved its hearing from Sheboygan to Iron Mountain, Mich. Gunaca attended and there he denied any part of the beatings and said he was not on the premises of the filling station when the beatings occurred. In March, 1958, when Gunaca was on the witness stand before the Senate Rackets committee which was then investigating the Kohler strike, he refused to answer questions relating to the alleged assault.

The position of Gov. Williams in refusing to extradite Gunaca on the ground that he could not get a fair trial in Wisconsin was an insult to the people of this state. It enabled this hired thug to carry on a delaying action which only served to emphasize the insults offered by Gov. Williams and was a bad example for law enforcement throughout the nation.
Thus we think Judge Rinehard performed a great service for Wisconsin in refusing to be a part of any dickering between the Gunaca attorney and the Sheboygan county district attorney, and for speeding straight ahead with what he conceived to be his duty. He said, "The court must rest its decision on the public good, considering the society as a whole. The court has a duty to create an example to others" and he added, "The acts committed on that July 4th in a peaceful community speak louder than words."
It is unnecessary to add, but it cannot go unnoticed, that the results of this trial are notice to the labor leaders in Detroit that the importation of brutal goons to support unions in any Wisconsin dispute do more harm than good. Furthermore, it is notice to all goons who are for hire that they should avoid accepting jobs in Wisconsin.

Judgment in Tallahassee

The decision of the jury in the Tallahassee trial of four white men accused of raping a Negro girl appears appropriate from the evidence given in the newspapers. But when members of the jury insist that race was never involved in the case they are wrong. Racial tension in part caused the crime, the law that involves a possible death penalty for the crime, and the attitudes of the participants, lawyers and jury members.
Florida, like many southern states, has the death penalty as mandatory for rape when no mercy is recommended by the jury. The severity of the sentence was obviously intended to deter Negroes from attacks on white women. No white man has ever died by court action in the South for the rape of a Negro, but there have been many executions of Negroes for like attacks on white women.
Defense lawyers attempted to excuse their clients on the basis of alcohol, deprived childhoods and even insanity. But the real excuse, if there was one, for the crime was the atmosphere in which the defendants had grown up. The men were obviously amazed at their arrest and the possibility that they might die for the crime; a Negro is after all, fair game in their society. And the girl apparently offered little actual physical resistance for the same reason. A white girl under similar circumstances might have resisted more forcibly and also might have been killed to prevent her from identifying her attackers.

The Tallahassee case is another step on the road toward equality of the races in the South, an equality which is many years away, but which is inevitable some day. In the future "white trash" like these defendants will recall that, under the law in the South, Negroes have some rights even when white men are involved. And southern Negroes, too, must respond with more restraint in relations with white people, the lack of which was at least partly responsible for the severity of the law in the first place.

'Air Bubble Breakwater'

About 50 years ago an American named P. Brasher conceived the idea of forming a breakwater against high seas by the use of air bubbles. However, his attempts to put the idea into effect were unsuccessful and the idea had not been used until very recently. Now the information bulletin of the Japanese embassy in Washington reports that the Japanese government has put the idea into effect.
The successful breakwater was designed by Prof. Michiohori Kunihara of Kyushu University in Japan. According to the Japanese report it is a rather simple device consisting of perforated iron pipes, built out from the shore into the sea slightly above the ocean floor. During a storm, compressed air is forced into the pipes and out through the perforations. This action by the air forms a wall of soft foam which spreads out in all directions, thus breaking up the waves on the surface. The report says the recently installed pipes are built in the form of a ladder and thus the compressed air forms wave after wave of bubbly cushions.

Many Japanese ports are under constant threat of typhoons. The successful test of the air bubble breakwater came during a typhoon which was lashing a shipyard where a large vessel was under construction. The Japanese report on this incident was given in these words.
Protecting oceans were wasted away and the waves threatened to destroy all the work which had been underway for months. Engineers decided to try the new breakwater. They forced the compressed air through perforated iron pipes and, thus forming an ever extending wall of bubbles below the ocean surface. The air from the perforated pipes created an effect a shipyard vessel broke the force of the waves, prevented them from reaching the ship. The sea calmed and the ship was safe.
It is an interesting report and in sharp contrast with Russian reports on inventions in that this one gives full credit to the American who originated the idea a half-century ago.

What Others are Saying

Tire-Gripping Asphalt May Stop Traffic Accidents

From The Cedar Rapids, Iowa Gazette
A road-surface gimmick that promises to improve safety at city intersections is being tested. Called rubber pavement, it is a pebbly surface that gives motorists a better effect to stop and a better effect is obtained in skidding. The test is being carried out on a section of a main street 300 feet from the stop sign.
Cook county (Chicago) in Illinois has installed the rubber pavement at 134 intersections since 1955. Traffic engineers report that treatment has resulted in vast improvements in stop sign obedience. Besides the warning sound it produces, rubber surface also affords better braking and starting, especially in winter. An incidental advantage, not anticipated, is that the anchored slag does not push up, ripples, as asphalt pavement frequently does under the impact of cars coming to a stop.

With all these advantages, it is reasonable to expect that the idea will spread.

Suggests Downtown Retailers Declare Feelings on Parking

Editor, Post-Crescent:
For the past several months the Appleton Downtown Retail association has been agitating for increased parking meter fees and an increase in the overtime parking fine to $2.
No matter what the people want the aldermen who are supposed to represent them will yield to the demands of this pressure group as they have in the past and those of us who have no private parking stalls will have to pay additional for the privilege of earning our money downtown.
However, we do not hate to spend our money downtown and since a blanket boycott would not be fair to those who are opposed to the association's recommendations, it would seem only fair that the Appleton Retail association submit, in a letter to this column a list of their members indicating whether they are for or against these increased taxes. If this is objected to, then perhaps the members could indicate in their advertisements whether or not they favor the association's recommendations. Information is that all is not harmony within this pressure group. It will be interesting to find out which members, if any, will have the courage to stand up and be counted on this issue.

Frogmen of Navy Beat By Woman

From The Ohio State Journal
The navy must feel as blue as its uniforms now that a 36-year-old woman has out-frogged its best frogmen.
It was about a month ago the navy dunned some frogmen in a swimming pool in an endurance test. Four of the hardest "old salts" stuck it out under the cool blanket of water for 46 hours, sufficient time for the navy to claim a record.
But the record now has been watered down and what is worse, by a housewife. With her aqualing she parked at the bottom of a Northridge, Calif., pool for 50 hours, 2 minutes and 36 seconds.
Perhaps it was the incentive of profit from which produced her greater endurance. At the rate of a $1 a second, after the 10-hour mark she totaled $700—sufficient to warm her colded bones in mid-June.

Records are set to be broken and we are sure the navy will plunge in to beat the landlubbers—except this time the winner will be a civilian.

Selfish Interests Still Seen Around Capitol

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
Madison — The bland and utter selfishness of some of the forces involved in legislative deliberations is one of the dismaying aspects of contemporary politics to the observer who follows affairs intimately.
Quite without sname there are dozens of special interests intensively working at Madison for special gains at the expense of the public interest who when they return to their homes and their families, probably tell their children about the benefits of the American form of government.
Yet the reflective observer must sometimes wonder whether republican institutions can long survive in the face of such rapid progress for special advantage and such straight-faced opportunism.
There are plenty of persons who are heartily in favor of the legislation which this year has about 1,000 separate appropriations before it. Trust in the competitive system, which frequently provides special interests to counteract the wishes of other special interests. It cannot be overpraised. An astonishing number of these bills are considered in a literal vacuum with the general public quite indifferent to what is going on.
It is difficult also when so many of today's politicians see nothing unusual in such assaults upon the lawmaking process. They have become so accustomed to the demands that they take time for granted as their normal thing. There are more legislators than it is pleasant to tell who tend to test the merits of a proposition by the presence or absence of witnesses on the committee hearing record.

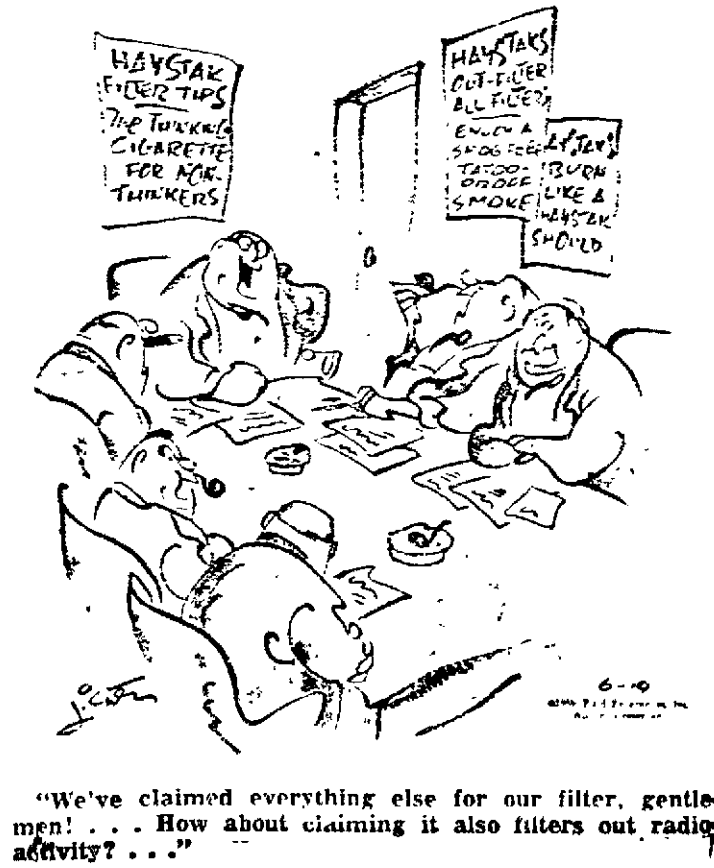

There was something on his mind. He hurried over and after the perfunctory pleasantries inquired about a bill in this legislature. It was very important, he said solemnly, for the protection of the public.
It is not necessary here to identify him or his business. The story is not unusual. This highly successful entrepreneur with a straight face assured me that this bill to require minimum pricing in bidding for certain contracts was also needed for the protection of the "little fellow" who doesn't understand costs.
Actually it is one of the most impertinent special interest gimmicks ever seriously presented in a legislative chamber. And it wasn't designed for the little fellow, but for our successful friend and his financial benefit. The bill will not. But bills like it are passed, and this particularly pestiferous one will probably also reach the statutes some day.

THE REMEDY
Is there a remedy for such dangerous nonsense?
Publicly? There are practical limits in a legislature which this year has about 1,000 separate appropriations before it. Trust in the competitive system, which frequently provides special interests to counteract the wishes of other special interests. It cannot be overpraised. An astonishing number of these bills are considered in a literal vacuum with the general public quite indifferent to what is going on.
It is difficult also when so many of today's politicians see nothing unusual in such assaults upon the lawmaking process. They have become so accustomed to the demands that they take time for granted as their normal thing. There are more legislators than it is pleasant to tell who tend to test the merits of a proposition by the presence or absence of witnesses on the committee hearing record.

Sewage, TV Get Aid From Government

From Rep. John Bremer, Neenah
It would be hard to think of a civic responsibility more casually neglected than sanitation and proper treatment of sewage. Yet the federal government now has a program, costing $50 million a year, all of which it puts in the first instance from the localities who think they are getting it free, paying federal aid for the construction of municipal sewage treatment plants. The president has recommended that this money be turned back to the localities. A house committee acted upon this program recently. Did it provide for its gradual termination? It did not. It recommended that the program be increased to $100 million a year continued for the next 10 years and raised the ceiling on federal aid for individual projects from $250,000 to $500,000. Maybe we're lucky at that. It would have extended federal aid to include trash collection, street sweeping and leaf raking.
The senate went the other way. It passed a bill which would give federal money to the federal government's even now having a hard time borrowing for the purchase of television equipment for educational TV broadcasts. This bill would cost $50 million.

Oneida Street Work Slated for Next Year

Concrete Paving Set North of Glendale, Asphalt to South

Major reconstruction of a long section of Oneida street has been scheduled for next year by the city council.

Paving with concrete was ordered for the section from Glendale avenue north to the new pavement constructed last year.

An asphalt mat was ordered for the section from Glendale avenue south to Wisconsin avenue.

In the meantime, the rough spots in the street, cited at the last council meeting by Ald. Lautenschlaeger, will be filled by the street department.

The street committee in discussing its Oneida street plans said these other streets ought to be considered for inclusion in next year's reconstruction program:

Repair or relocation of the Lave street retaining wall at the John street turn-off.
S. Drew street mill and low College avenue.
Prospect avenue and Oneida street intersection.
South River and Fremont streets.

These other actions involving streets were taken by the council:

Assessments were confirmed, after no one appeared to protest at the public hearing, for grading, graveling, sewer and water mains on Reinke court and curb, gutter and added gravel on Lindberg street between Viola and Racine streets.

Preliminary resolutions were passed declaring the council's intent to set assessments for grading, graveling and turnover and double seal-coating of the alley between Spruce and Summit streets south of Lawrence street, and for grading, graveling, curb and gutter for Marquette street from Owassa street to Ballard road, Jackson street between South River street and Fremont streets, and Rankin street from College avenue to Alton street.

In committee, one alderman opposed one block of the Jackson street project. The Rankin street work will establish a street 33 feet wide.

Sidewalk was ordered for the east side of Bennett street between Grant street and Wisconsin avenue, belonging to the Fox River Valley Knitting company.

The street department was ordered to repair the road-way on Appleton street south and Parkway boulevard where a water main was installed. The water department will be billed for the work.

Oppose Projects

Ald. Mrs. Stilings and Ertl were the lone opponents to building of an addition to the Reid Municipal Golf course clubhouse's porch, an estimated $5,000 project.

She said the project was not part of the park board's budget last fall and asked, "How can we say tonight that we need this more than we need something else?"

Mayor Mitchell said the park board expects to finance the work through unbudgeted revenues for landscaping Huntley school. Similar board work at Madison Junior High school last year provided about $7,000 in unanticipated money.

Hannemann said the project will provide for winter recreation for youth. He called the project very necessary.

The project, the park board said Tuesday, would include grading, graveling, extension of winterizing windows on the County Trunk A between Col-existing porch so that all of lege and Prospect avenues to the porch area can be used serve the industrial develop-ment of County Trunk BB, west of

County Trunk Work

Mayor Mitchell asked how the concrete paving of Ballard street, one of three county ought not be sold in light of trunks the street committee the price received recently for Pointer said the committee has to get its suggestions for trunk improvements before the county highway committee by July 1 and did not have time to discuss the point. He said it probably could be financed as the W. Prospect avenue work is this year, with an appropriation from the county.

The mayor asked if Pointer realized one side of the trunk between Wisconsin avenue and Highway 41 is outside the city. Pointer said he did, but the airport is there and with air service pending the county also ought to want to improve the roadway.

Mitchell said the county definitely will not pay for curb and gutter and will base its aid on an 18-foot-wide strip down the center of the road. The council approved recovery urgent and said the commending county highway money would be well spent, committee improvement of

Sturgeon Bay Youth Boys' State Chief

Appleton Residents Ride in Inaugural Parade Thursday

Ripon — Justice Grover L. Broadfoot of the Wisconsin Supreme court Thursday night administered oaths of office to Charles Asher of Sturgeon Bay, governor of Badger Boys' state, and other youthful officials of the week-long exercise in good government.

Gov. Gaylord Nelson made a brief address at the ceremonies which also was attended by Wallis Wilde of Wauwatosa, governor of Wauwata, state at the University of Wisconsin.

Werner Witte, assistant principal of Appleton High school and a vice president of Boys' state, and Mrs. Stanley Staidl, American Legion auxiliary president from Apple-a home in the way of the College avenue bridge.

Ald. Groh said it would be better to have the home torn down since "it could wind up in the Riverdale area."

"I just asked a question," said Schneider.

"Do you have your answer?" kidded Mayor Mitchell.

The Riverdale area is being developed by the Garvey Agency, for which Schneider works.

Bids for razing the house and other buildings will be received by the board of public works. Appleton Manufacturing company, which is buying 10 acres in the park, needs the land cleared within 60 days.

Michael Rick, Milwaukee, and Dennis Paquette, Merrill, were chosen circuit court judges with Neil Duresky, La Crosse, and Michael Campbell, Ripon, court clerks.

Disability Payment Change Important To 50,000 Persons

Elimination of the need to offset the amount of other benefits against social security disability benefit payments is important to more than 50,000, says Frank M. Donnick, manager of the Appleton social security office.

City School Leaders Wants to Explain Their Aims to Businessmen

John P. Mann, city school superintendent, and officers of the Appleton Teachers' association have approached the chamber of commerce with plans for discussing the school system with the business leaders.

Chamber Sec. Kenneth Corbett said the school leaders would reverse the chamber's annual business-education day program in which business and industrial leaders explain American business and industrial aims to school classes.

The school leaders would explain the school system's of other Chicago sites aims to the chamber delegation, planned for the next three years, he added.

meeting next spring, Corbett indicated.

Details of a complete program are being developed by the school leaders, Corbett said.

Red Owl Stores Plan Three Supermarkets In Chicago Suburbs

Chicago — Red Owl Stores, Inc., Minneapolis-based chain, will enter the Chicago area with three supermarkets in the northern suburb of Wilmette, Lincolnwood and Arlington Heights, Alf L. Marrying George Says

Wedding Mainly Hard Work

New Haven, Conn. —

"Dressing ushers for a wedding is tough work. They're the dumbest things you ever saw. They can't put a button in a collar or a pair of cuff links in their sleeves. You take the smartest guy in the world, talk to him at a wedding and all you get out of him is uh-uh-duh."

And that is why the wedding specialist of one of the nation's most high-faluting men's clothiers turns up at fashionable weddings in a tee shirt and tennis shoes.

Travels on Job

"I strip right down and get busy," said George Feen, who has handled more than 150 weddings for the more wealthy customers of J. S. Press Inc.

One anxious bridegroom paid for Feen's plane ticket to British Columbia to oversee a wedding, but his most exciting trip was to a huge society wedding on Long Island.

Feen, driving from New Haven with his car jammed with specially tailored cutaways, took a wrong turn. Instead of arriving at noon, he was still going to a wedding at 1:45 p.m. The wedding was at 3 p.m.

State Police Help

But the bride's panicky father had called out the state police, who collected Feen and sped him — sirens screaming in a special motorcycle escort — to the scene.

"I got 'em dressed and to the church on time."

The weddings dearest to Feen's heart are those where the bridegroom, best man and ushers all invest in expertly tailored tails or cutaways to the tune of about $150 for each complete outfit.

Cost Mounts Up

"But if they insist on renting, we recommend an establishment," added the practical Feen. Even so, the purchase of shirts, ties, socks and collars mounts up.

"We average $150 to $200 on little last-minute details," he said. Feen throws in his services — which cover a wide range.

"I have my wedding suitcase. I have a needle and thread — bridegrooms and ushers always have loose buttons — shoe horns, shoe polish, aspirin and smelling salts."

Smelling Salts

"I've had bridegrooms pass out on me so many times it isn't even funny. Fathers of the bride, too. One fellow, I tied his ascot with one hand and waved smelling salts under his nose with the other."

"I've got common pins, extra collars and shirts in a whole range of sizes, spare ascots and shoe laces. Men get all fussed at weddings and they're always ripping out their shoe laces just as the music is starting."

Small, dapper, black-haired Feen doesn't limit himself to just dressing the men in the wedding party.

Lost Dresses

"I was at one wedding where the three bridesmaids somehow misplaced their dresses. That's right — lost him away because I'm no fun 'em. The father of the bride was ready to die."

"I'd been at another wedding and he proposed to me in Russian."

Ann Tells 'Semi-Engaged' Girl Not to 'Be on Reserve' 18 Months

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN: Our daughter is 15 but she's adult-acting for her age. Five weeks ago she met a fellow stationed in our town and she's gone completely crazy over him. She wants to accept a friend's proposal to get married. He's leaving for overseas for 18 months and she insists she wants to wait for him.

Shall we let her have her way to keep peace in the family? We're tired of fighting with her. —Weary People

Dear People: Your 15-year-old is looking to you for guidance and support because she's unsure of herself. She thinks she wants to "reserve herself" for this boy but she's not certain. Tell her no. No 15-year-old should sit home for 18 months "semi-engaged" (whatever that means.) You know it and she knows it.

Bride Wore Red One of Customs In Marriage Lore

Most summer brides have they also performed many too many things on their functions at the wedding ceremony to ever stop and ponder, and eventually small der the reasons why they go boys bearing the ring on a through certain customs and satin pillow became the out-fallow prescribed traditions at ward symbol of life-long un-their weddings.

Actually, all ages and countries have contributed to today's ceremony. Even the word "wedding" is an out-growth of the ancient custom of marriage by purchase. The groom-to-be gave a "wed" of money or cattle as the purchase price of his future bride.

France initiated the throwing of the bridal bouquets, but it was first a garter, according to Mme. Jacques Bollinger, who heads the French champagne firm of that name.

The 14th Century French bride flung her garter as an omen of luck to whomever caught it. As time wore on, more timid brides substituted bouquets and the idea sprang up that the lucky girl catching the bouquet would be the next bride.

As for white wedding dress — the bride wore red in medieval times. It was not until Anne of Brittany married Louis XII and broke with tradition by wearing white, that this latter custom became established throughout the world.

In early times in England, it was customary on the wedding day for the new husband to wait upon his bride at the table and since such a servant was known as the groom, hence the origin of the term "bridegroom."

The custom of the "ring bearer" was created in Italy during the middle ages. Since pages were a necessary part of any well-to-do household,

Tomorrow's Bridge — Today Letter-Perfect Bidding Is Done in This Hand

BY WILLIAM SEAMON

Neither side is vulnerable.

South deals.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 S	Pass	1 N T	Pass
2 S	Pass	3 S	Pass
4 S	Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead:

King of hearts

It appears that South has four certain losers on this hand — one spade, two diamonds, and one club. However, South only lost three tricks and there was little that the defenders could do.

The bidding is really letter-perfect — North's response of one no trump might be questioned by many players but North's hand did not warrant a 2-over-1 response.

When South rebid his spade suit, North realized that his doubleton spade could now be considered support.

With his two aces and his doubleton club, North bid three spades and South bid the game in spades. As is easily seen, there is no play for a game at no trump.

The opening lead of the king of hearts was taken in dummy with the ace and South immediately played a heart from dummy and trumped it. He now led a small club and East won the trick and returned a trump which declarer took with the ace. The ace of clubs was now cashed and a small club was trumped in dummy.

Declarer trumped a third heart to return to his hand and then cashed the king and queen of trumps. A small diamond was led and the ace was taken in the dummy.

Now dummy's last heart was led and South ruffed it in his hand with his last trump. When West could not over-trump, South had taken ten tricks — six spades and one club in his hand and a club ruff and two aces in dummy.

It almost looks like magic but there is the proof right in front of your eyes.

Designing Woman

BY ELIZABETH HILLYER

Look for Fine Details, Unusual Sizes in New Furniture

How new the furniture will look in the room come fall will depend on how well it is chosen for fine detail. And another bride to the new husband's point is size — there never were so many sizes or so many kinds of pieces as there are now on preview showings in Chicago of furniture for fall. A room lifts from the usual with a piece or two of unusually proportioned furniture, which also helps the fit of furniture into the best possible arrangements.

Fine details and unusual sizes are to be had in new furniture in almost every price range. Sketched are pieces at both comfortably low and higher prices, yet all show important styling distinctions. The long chest that was so flat in front not too long ago swings into deeper and more intricate paneling as the fitted buffet at top left shows. Other cabinets break plain surfaces with contrasting wood as the right top chest does with its strips of very light maple over walnut.

Or beautifully carved pulls are stand-out decoration, here on a cabinet that is 65½ inches tall although it fits 36-inch-wide wall space.

Details on sofas and chairs may start with the wood of the base in gentle sculpturing and continue with shaped backs, while they have the words "quilted" motifs on the upholstery covers and extra arm cushions, and the sofa sketch incorporates all these fine points. Wood chairs may take unexpected upholstering as the sketched sling chairs do with fabric over foam rubber.

Both the chairs and the table show a move toward intricately pierced stretchers. The sudden thrust of a tall chair often has something special to offer the style of a room, and the newest tall chairs are in wood rather than in all upholstered versions.

Tall screens also contribute so much style that they are now widely offered to match new furniture. Buffet and lower center chair by White; cabinet and screen by Founders; both at the Merchandise Mart. Sofa, and the table and chair group by Valley.

Do as the professional decorator does — start the room with a floor plan. You can make one with Elizabeth Hillyer's Furniture Arrangement Kit and no trouble at all. The kit provides 126 cutouts of furniture, floor plan paper, instructions and pointers on good arrangements and it's yours for just 50 cents sent with your request to Miss Hillyer at this newspaper. Please allow approximately 3 weeks for delivery.

"That's what you always say and I'm the only girl in the class who can't go. Everybody else is going."

"Well you are not going and since you insist I'll tell you why," and the troubled, anxious father or mother presents the child with the latest statistics of the Social Service bureau. "As if I'd do anything like that," is her angry reply.

There is nothing else for parents to do but stand firmly on the line of limitation and so save themselves and their boys and girls from bringing grief on themselves and the family. There are some things that are not done by the family. State them. Hold to that statement and forget "everybody."

A Group of 450 Turned out for the first Fox Valley area meeting of Golden Age clubs Thursday at St. Joseph school hall. Events included a talk by Gov. Gaylord A. Nelson during the afternoon, a 5 p.m. dinner and evening program. Card enthusiasts found a quiet corner during the afternoon to enjoy a game. From left are Mrs. William Gehrke, Mrs. Marie Quintance, Mrs. Enil Frailing, Mrs. Fred Densch and Mr. Gehrke, all of Kaukauna.

Use Talents to Stay Young, Governor Tells Golden Agers

Wisconsin's senior citizens is the hardest work in the world. A new idea requires effort and experience in order to fortify to accept it and to do something about it."

Gov. Gaylord Nelson told 450 attentive Golden Age club members at St. Joseph school auditorium Thursday afternoon. The meeting was the first Fox Valley area conference of Golden Age clubs.

"There isn't a single thing that you could accomplish 30 years ago that you can't do better today," the governor told the Golden Age members, all over 60. They gave him a standing ovation as he left the auditorium.

He said that the experience of age improves judgment and wisdom and that talents don't necessarily slip in old age.

Thinking Hard Work

The governor's father, a doctor who died at 82 last summer, told him when he was in high school that even when the body begins to slip downhill, "you can improve your brain," the governor related.

Nelson said that "thinking

More Than 60 Appletonians Mingled with party guests at the international YMCA convention's dinner dance Thursday evening at Green Lake High school. They were among 1,200 attending the Y convention which closes today. Getting acquainted during a dance break with Dr. Fortunata S. Santos, left, are Mr. and Mrs. John Harkins and Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Evans, right. Dr. Santos, a native of the Philippines, is employed by Lutheran hospital, Cleveland, Ohio.

Announce League Winners

The Women's Good Fellowship Golf league met Wednesday at Reid Municipal Golf course. Standings are Kroffts, 119. Mrs. Thomas McKenny, captain; Wilsons, 85. Mrs. Rocklin Gmeiner, captain; Royals, 80. Mrs. Dan Gressler, captain; Raystreaks, 74. Mrs. Clarence Zelle, captain; Green Rays, 71. Mrs. Harold Baerenwald, captain, and Pinnacles, 51. Mrs. Carlton Campshire, captain.

Dancing Was Featured during the evening and couples enjoying the music. From left, are A. H. Melzer, Appleton, and Mrs. Meta Kuhn, Kaukauna, and Mrs. Lula Besnah and Art Kassilke, both of Appleton. The 1-day event was staged by the Appleton Golden Age club.

Age is Attitude

Growing old, the governor said, is all an attitude of the mind. "You get old fashioned when you oughtn't."

He encouraged the oldsters to volunteer their work in local government or to work for their churches. People with a bent for working with youth groups and in politics should exercise their interests, the governor said.

"There isn't a single problem in which you have an interest that the government isn't interested in," he declared.

State governments have been slow to develop the talents of aged people, he continued. "We are seeking devices to use everybody's talents to their best advantage, but we've just begun," he said.

Shared by Others

The problem of old age is a problem shared by all age groups, now, the governor added. "It's the problem of leisure time. It starts out with the little boys and girls. It's the teenagers' problem. Without something constructive to do, they find something destructive to do," he said.

The problem of leisure time will continue to worsen because men will continue to work fewer hours and retire younger, he continued. Leisure didn't exist in the past because men had to work 18 hours a day to feed and clothe their families, he said.

"People must at all levels make a constructive contribution to society," he concluded.

The governor was flown to Appleton as part of a day-long swing through the Fox valley. He appeared in Green Bay Thursday morning. In the afternoon he spoke in Appleton and Fond du Lac. In the evening he appeared at the Badger Boys' state inaugural.

In Good Taste Don't Write To Friends Before Trip

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband and I am taking a cross-country trip by car and will pass through certain cities in which we have friends. Most of them we haven't seen in years. I think it would be a splendid opportunity to renew these old friendships. To avoid missing them when we're in their towns, could we write on and give them some idea of when we expect to come through? Would this obligate them to anything?

Answer: If you write ahead of time they will probably think that you expect them to invite you to a meal. I would suggest that you wait until you arrive in their towns and then telephone to see if they are at home and say that you would like to stop by to see them for a half an hour or so.

Introducing Friend

Dear Mrs. Post: The other day while lunching with a friend of mine, another woman friend whom I had not seen for a long time came into this same restaurant and as she passed our table, stopped and spoke to me for a few moments. I did not introduce her to the woman with whom I was lunching, and have since wondered whether I should have done so. I never know what to do in a situation of this kind. Will you please set me straight?

Answer: If the person with whom you were lunching was busy looking at the menu or otherwise occupied, it was not necessary to introduce her. But if she sat there doing nothing and the other person lingered at your table, then you should have introduced her.

Serving Applesauce

Dear Mrs. Post: When applesauce is served with the main course, should a teaspoon be provided? We serve it in little glass cups when we have pork and ham.

Answer: A teaspoon is real-mullin. Margaret Overesch is not correct. It should be eaten with your fork—whether you eat it directly or whether you put it on your meat plate.

Mrs. Post offers readers leaflets on a variety of subjects concerning etiquette. If you would like to have her leaflet E-4, entitled, "Wedding Expenses," send 10 cents in coin to Dept. E.P., care of this newspaper, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N.Y.

Commission Supports Nelson's Road Plan

Says U. S. Usurps Funds That Should Go To Finance State Highway Improvements

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Madison — The state highway administration is giving strategic assistance to Gov. Gaylord Nelson's campaign for a stepped up superhighway building program with borrowed money.

In a special narrative summary of its budget before the legislature, the commission makes two significant points:

1. Wisconsin has not yet established a pace for financing highway improvements commensurate with construction needs.

2. The national government through its new highway-user taxes has usurped state highway tax sources that could be tapped for a state road program.

Plan Not Mentioned
 The result of the report is an oblique endorsement of the governor's plan for a highway bonding program, now prohibited by law. The road department, however, does not refer directly to such a plan. The governor will withhold his borrowing proposal until the fall session of the legislature.

The commission also has marked off about 900 miles of the state highway system for 4-lane, divided construction. In addition to the 450 miles of federal-aid interstate construction budgeted for the state.

The total would be about 10 per cent of the state highway mileage, including any road with average daily traffic of 4,000 vehicles.

A map, showing informal planning for the future, includes dual construction for such routes as Highway 51 traversing the central part of the state north and south.

Highway 29 across the state east and west from Green Bay to Chippewa Falls, a new road piercing the northwestern resort region north of Chippewa Falls, Highway 141 from Milwaukee north to nasna, Nikolay of Abbotsford, Green Bay, and various segments of heavily traveled trunks in the southeastern corner of the state. Dual construction of Highway 41 from Milwaukee north is underway.

Wants Vote
 Cane suggested that the Indian legislation, including the proposal for a new county, become effective only after a referendum vote of the Indians showing a majority favoring such action.

Ward also proposed a supervised first election for the county officers of the suggested 72nd county, which would be composed almost exclusively of Menominees.

Other members said they have questions about the procedure for establishing salaries of county officials, and about safeguards against the disposition of stock shares by the Menominees.

Armored Car Group Pushes CD Program
 The National Armored Car association has taken steps to develop a civil defense program in the armored car industry. CD headquarters reports.

Assembly Rejects 2 Plans to Change County Regimes
 Madison — P. The assembly Thursday turned down two joint resolutions aimed at softening the constitutional requirements that all county government in the state be uniform.

Another resolution which would have amended the constitution to permit county boards, as well as the legislature, to initiate amendments to the constitution was killed. The vote was 72 to 19.

The resolution to amend the constitution to permit counties to decide for themselves what type government they should have was killed by voice vote.

George Belting, R-Beloit, introduced the measure.

The other measure designed to permit more than one kind of county government was tabled. The judiciary committee had recommended, 10-0, that it be passed. Since it was tabled, there is still a chance it will get favorable consideration.

Expect Senate to OK Appointment To Commission
 Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
 Madison — Senate confirmation of the appointment of Harvey Grasse of Ellison Bay to the state highway commission was forecast today after a friendly hearing before the state senate committee on highways Wednesday.

The Door county Democratic leader was named to the $13,500 seat on the 3-member commission by Gov. Nelson. He will represent the eastern district of Wisconsin and will replace Charles W. Ahner of Fond du Lac, a Republican.

Offer Three Formulas for Removing All Rug Stains

Substances Found in Every Kitchen Plus Cleaning Fluid Can be Used In Various Combinations

Washington, D. C. — Three warm water. Squeeze the substances found in every mixture on the spot and blot kitchen, plus a dry cleaning up with damp cloth or a fluid, will remove many of the sponge. Then squeeze plain rug and carpet stains which water on the area and absorb the housewife, accord with dry cloth. Repeat several times to technicians of the National Institute of Rug Cleaning.

The remedies are much simpler and not as effective as those used by professional rug cleaners. While they will not remove all spots, they will not intensify or set stains if used according to directions. The dry cleaning fluid is used in its pure state, but the other three substances, detergent, vinegar and ammonia, are mixed with water. The formulas are:

Formula 1: One teaspoon of neutral (non-alkaline) detergent such as those used for washing delicate fabrics, mixed with 1/2 pint of luke-

Support Given Bill to Pay for Improving Roads

Madison — Strong support was given Wednesday to a bipartisan measure that would give Wisconsin towns $600 for every mile of highway improvement along state approved school bus routes.

Assemblyman Jerome Blaska (D-Sun Prairie) co-author of the "incentive" proposal, said it would encourage towns to improve sub-standard roads. The plan, which would be financed from segregated highway funds, would give relief to property taxpayers, he said.

Lone opposition to the bill was voiced by a League of Wisconsin Municipalities representative. He said there is not enough money to support the plan and that the whole matter needs further study.

To remain two or three minutes, rinse and absorb. Crepe paper or bunting: While often hopeless after setting, these stains will sometimes respond to prolonged wetting and absorption. Use formula 1 and blot up, repeatedly every half-hour for eight or ten hours.

Grease Not Difficult

Butter, cooking oil, fats: Saturate a cloth or sponge with dry cleaning fluid.

Egg, gelatin, mucilage: Same as for blood.

Furniture stains: These stains, usually caused by furniture legs on wet carpets, are among the most difficult to remove. Call a professional rug cleaner.

Inks: Don't allow them to penetrate and dry. Blot up at once, apply dry cleaning fluid and absorb. When dry solvent will no longer remove color, try formula 1. Continue as long as you get results. Use of milk belongs in the realm of superstition and only causes a smelly mess.

Mercurochrome: These are very difficult and impractical for an inexperienced person. A professional can sometimes remove or at least reduce them.

Mustard: Use formula 1.

Urine: This is among the most serious but color change can be held to a minimum if treated at once. Saturate the area with clean, lukewarm water. Absorb moisture, then use formula 2. Absorb again and dry thoroughly.

Save Topsoil To Insure Lawn Success

If Layer Is of Quality It Is Worth Money

BY GEORGE E. CREED

Many a prospective home owner unwittingly throws money down the drain by allowing topsoil on his building site to be spoiled during construction.

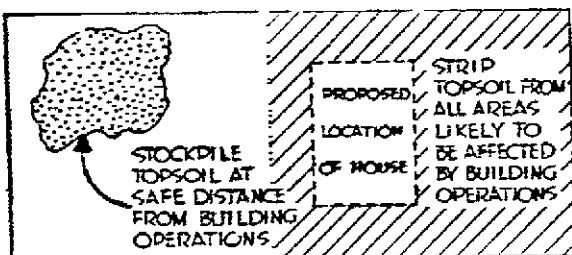

Topsoil can spell the difference between success and failure in growing a good lawn, ground covers and other shallow-rooted plants used in a landscape. If it is of good quality it is worth money. For example, a four-inch layer of topsoil supporting the lawn areas on a plot of land measuring 50 by 150 feet would cost a minimum of $240. In some areas the cost could be double this amount.

It often happens that when a house is being built, topsoil is carelessly covered with subsoil taken from excavations of cellars, foundations and utility lines. Buried topsoil is useless. Sometimes unscrupulous builders even strip the topsoil and sell it. When this happens, the new home owner is faced with the prospect of buying more topsoil to replace that taken from his property.

Surface Soil

If you have property on which you intend to build, make a careful examination of its surface soil. On a dry day, if you can sink a trowel into it easily and you find that it contains humus, you are in luck. However, if you dig down and find that you have only a two or three-inch layer, the topsoil will not be worth stockpiling. Since even a thin covering of topsoil is worth something (you can always add to it), you should caution your builder to avoid covering it with subsoil or leaving building debris on it.

If your site requires grading, have the topsoil removed first. Then grade with subsoil where filling is required and cover with the topsoil that has been stockpiled.

TOPSOIL IS SURFACE SOIL. IT VARIES IN DEPTH, COLOR AND QUALITY. IT IS OF GOOD QUALITY IF IT CONSISTS OF AN MIXTURE OF SOIL WITH GENEROUS PROPORTIONS OF HUMUS (DECOMPOSED ROOTS, LEAVES & OTHER PLANT PARTS.) GOOD TOPSOIL IS NOT NECESSARILY FERTILE.

Decorator Rhoda Sande combines an old reproduction of a Del Sarto drawing, an original playing card, a mushroom from Sowerby's collection (1699), a print of a machine part, a medieval cologne bottle and a modern interpretation of pendulum clock to achieve this harmonious arrangement above an antique chest.

Picture Display Gives Room Wall 'New Look'

Proportion Important Ingredient in The Formula for Good Arrangements

BY VIVIAN BROWN

AP Newsfeatures Writer

You can make a living room wall a conversation piece by seeking individuality in displaying your pictures, says decorator Rhoda Sande, whose special forte is grouping pictures.

"Proportion is the important ingredient in the formula for good wall arrangements," says Miss Sande, who advises amateur decorators not to think in terms of 2 or 3-inch frames when selecting a border for a picture.

"It's better to get a sense of the way the picture moves and then determine the frame," she says. "Sometimes it is better to have the mat wider at the sides, sometimes a narrower frame all around does the best job."

"Put your imagination to work too, in the matter of choosing mats for pictures," she says. "Silk, linen, burlap, other fabrics may strike your fancy. We do not need to stick to the same old static ideas in framing pictures."

If you are uncertain about display, map it out on paper or set up your plan on the floor before making the final decision. One good idea, suggests Miss Sande, is to move colored papers over the picture until you decide on the right color and width of your mat.

"The mat and frame should be thought of as one unit, and they should harmonize to be pleasing to the eye," she explains. "Avoid making the wall look top-heavy or cluttered. It's safer to leave space around frames than to achieve solid mass. When decorating above a sofa, do not go across the entire back of it. The same advice applies to tables and chair arms."

Something New

The new fashion is to group other articles of furniture with the pictures on walls—clocks, enormous keys, odd plaques and old store signs, and Miss Sande believes if these articles fit into the room, fine. But if they don't, skip the idea.

"A group of 'just objects' can be very cold, but one or two three-dimensional things can really perk up a wall area," she says. "Although I must say I dislike little white plaster plaques that mean nothing, and seem to be the rage in some circles. A clock is a suitable and ideal object to include in the wall art, and there are lovely designs that can beautify any arrangement."

A Silenced Whistler Gets The Go-Ahead

New Haven — "I feel free as a bird," Ed McCarthy, the warbling railroad conductor said Wednesday. He immediately started to whistle like one.

McCarthy, silenced by railroad brass earlier this month, got the go-ahead yesterday from none other than George Alpert, president of the New Haven railroad.

McCarthy planned to mark the lifting of the injunction immediately by entertaining passengers along the aisles of the Bankers' Special, which runs between New Haven and New York.

The conductor's whistling repertory — warbles, trills, chirps and other bird-like noises — kept many a New York commuter happy in the last 15 years. It pacified babies, wakened sleepers, gave even the card players something to smile about.

Then came the injunction. Too many complaints, said McCarthy's supervisor.

But the railroad did not reckon on the letter-writers. They wrote Alpert that McCarthy's cheery warbling was needed in the drab world of commuting. One suggested a promotion for the conductor.

The clearance came from Alpert, who earlier had noted that "a little whistling does no harm."

"The word was passed on down to me through the ranks," said McCarthy. "I plan to start whistling again."

Shareholding Plans Aid Employers

27 Per Cent Get First Stocks Through Companies

BY SYLVIA PORTER

All over the country this payday, an army of 1,340,000 Americans will be automatically adding to their nesteggs in stocks under employee stock purchase plans offered by their corporations. This development helps explain why stock ownership is becoming a mass movement among America's middle-income families.

A whopping 27 per cent of the millions who have become stockholders for the first time in the past three years began their buying through corporation stock purchase programs. Of the record total of 12,490,000 individuals who own stocks now, one out of five got into the market via this route, and of all women shareowners a full 25 per cent acquired stock through the corporations they work for. Of shareowners employed by public corporations, 23 per cent—or 2,589,000—are stockholders in their own companies.

The startling growth of employee stock purchase plans is another of the fascinating plans offer a way to improve revelations in the just-re-employ morale and loyalty, leased census of stockholders encourage habits of thrift and by the New York Stock exchange to educate workers to the virtues of capitalism. To some big corporations, this is a source of new money from the employee stock buying plan inside.

While Sears and Roebuck's source of new money from the employee stock buying plan inside goes back to 1916, the plans all but disappeared during the depression '30s and their re-emergence has come only in the past few years. Now, though, increasingly demanding general almost half the companies stock buying plans as a fringe benefit.

Half Share Stocks The trend clearly is toward employee stock purchase plans. The census reveals that nine out of 10 shareowners believe, "It is a good thing for employees to own shares in their own companies." basic points are:

(1) They are stimulating cause this "encourages great stock ownership among average folks by making it convenient and relatively easy ties." You don't need too vivid an imagination to foresee what might happen if the millions of workers who become owners of their corporations—

(2) They are steadily shifting through their own stock buying or the purchases of their pension funds — ever start trying to dictate management's policies. There is no sign of the armies of employees attempting to take over, but the possibilities are there.

Build Nestegg To millions of employees, the plans offer a way to build a nestegg in stocks to help them benefit from the nation's prosperity and protect them against future inflation. The U. S. savings bond campaign acquainted all of us with payroll deductions to buy securities. Employees are understandably intrigued by their corporation's pledge of a contribution or a safeguard against loss.

To a large and growing number of corporations, the

Here's the Answer

Question: I have taken off what kind of tree, etc. The old varnish from a bureau and now intend to stain it a mahogany color to match some other furniture. I would like to use regular oil stain. What is the best way to lighten the stain, since the furniture to be matched is a very light mahogany?

Answer: First of all, be sure you get a light mahogany all except the hanging of the stain. Secondly, thin it with turpentine. This by itself will lighten the color. Third, after applying the stain, wipe it off immediately. By taking these three steps, you will find that you have left a very, very light mahogany color on the wood. If it is a little too light, apply another coat — again wiping it off at once. Continue this procedure until the stain is the proper shade. This method takes a little longer, but insures you against making the first coat too dark.

Question: I expect to put down a layer of concrete in our backyard some time this summer. There is a large tree in the center of the yard. How close to the base of the tree can the concrete be placed?

Answer: This is a tough one to answer, because a lot depends on how old the tree is,

Concrete Screen Adds To Design

Houses with glass walls have brought about a companion innovation — screen walls of hollow concrete masonry units or grille block. These decorative screens are appearing in a variety of striking patterns, including circles, diamonds and triangles, as well as more intricate forms. Used as a screen in front of window areas, they provide privacy and temperature control. In summer they reduce as well as garden walls, car-sun glare and make a room cooler, while in cold weather they act as a wind break and partial insulation. For houses that are close together, or for an inner courtyard, a concrete masonry

You Just Can't Beat Success...

Fraser Lumber Co. aids in skyrocketing success of the "SUNLINER Team"

Mr. Al Schnese, President Fraser Lumber Company, Inc. 571 N. Sunline St. Appleton, Wisconsin

Dear Sir: This letter is to confirm our verbal agreement for your company to supply the complete materials for an additional six (6) Sunliner homes. We know you will be pleased to hear this material will take us through our 25th Sunliner contract. We hope to have this 25th house started by late summer, about the first anniversary of our original Sunliner Model Home.

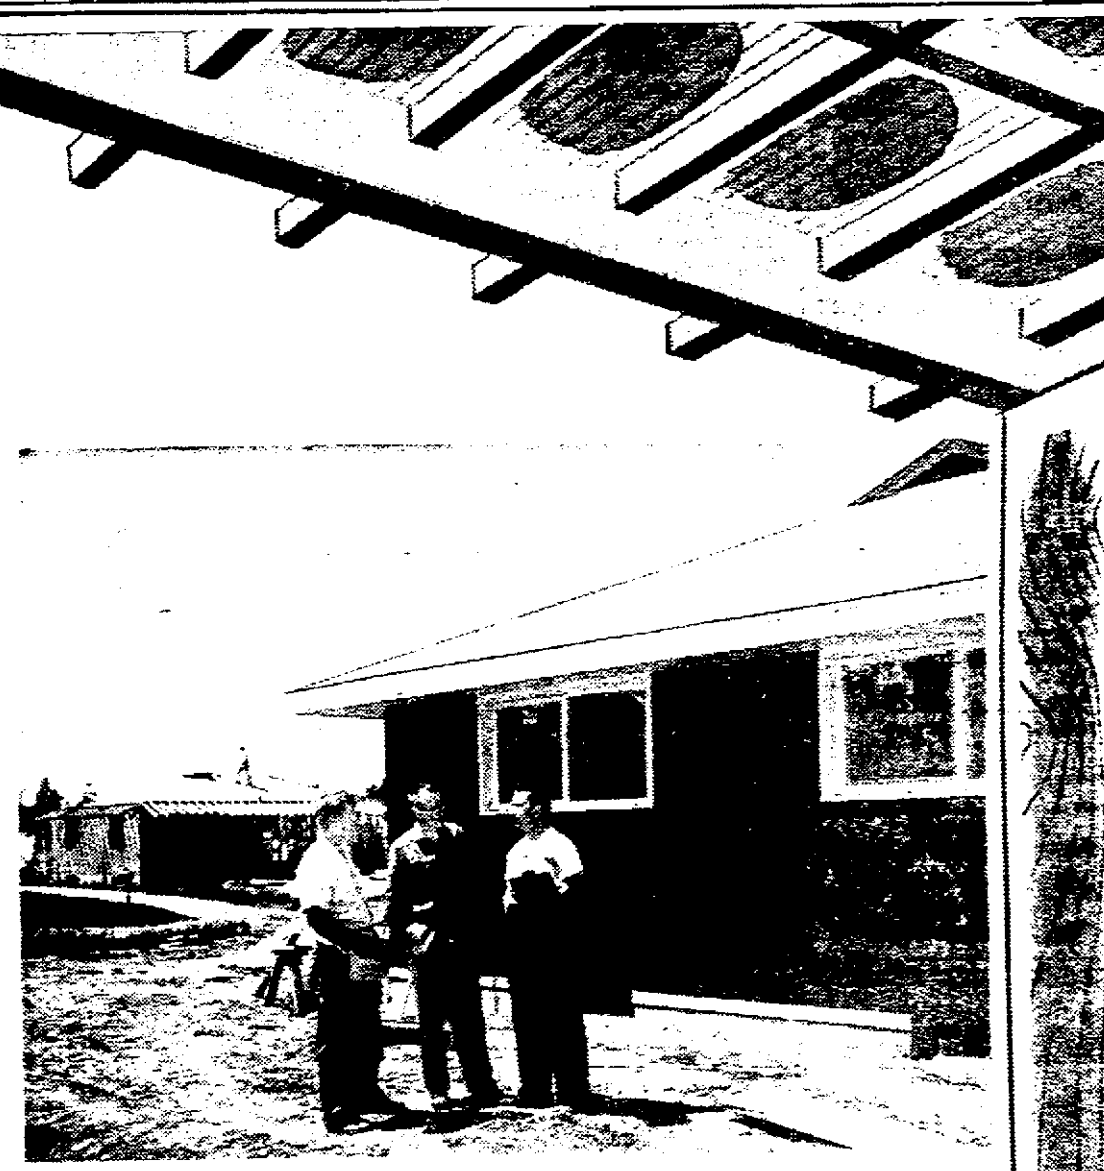

We would also like to congratulate you, and your entire staff, on the establishment of the newly reorganized Fraser Lumber Company. We feel that much of your new success is due to your not being satisfied to be merely a supplier of materials, but to offer a complete line of services. In our case particularly, with five or six houses under construction at one time, on a tight erection schedule, the whole-hearted cooperation of your entire organization is necessary.

We would like to mention just a few of your services we appreciate:

- We make full use of your new drawing and blueprinting department with every home-building contract.
- Your "on the dot" delivery service is the best in town.
- You can always be counted on to deliver unquestionable top quality lumber and millwork (with no call-backs necessary).
- Our Sunliner customers make full use of your Elinor Anderson's professional assistance with interior decorating and coordination.
- Finally, Al, you yourself, by breaking down all of our materials into individual "load lists", have made it possible for our crews to erect Sunliners at a much faster and so more efficient rate.

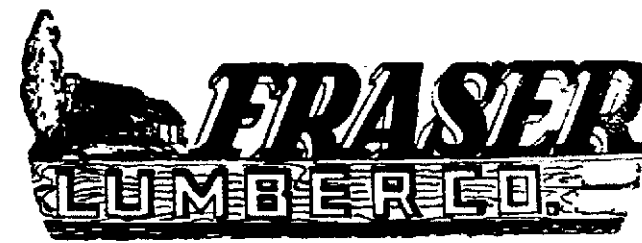

In conclusion, we personally want to wholeheartedly wish you continued success in your new business venture.

Sincerely,
Joe De...

Compromise Budget Ready for Legislature

2-Year Figure Set at $380,145,519;
Passage to Clear Way for Other Bills

Madison — Republican considered a formality. This and Democratic negotiators will clear the log jam on other today put their signatures on bills affecting state finances a $380,145,519 biennial state budget and agreed to recommend its adoption.

The compromise 2-year spending plan will come to the floor of the legislature Tuesday. Its adoption there is

No New Taxes
Sen. Al Laun (R-Kel.), one of the negotiators, said the new 2-year plan could be financed without any new taxes. The plan, however, does not embrace new school aids outside present formulas, building funds, student loan funds, or other items in the governor's program.

The second-year budget figure of $195,436,890 carries these appropriations over and above those recommended for the first year: $994,645 for the University of Wisconsin, $3,739,000 more in school aids, and $18,826,000 more in welfare aids.

Second-year figures contain no new programs and no aid formula changes.

also will take the flight, originating in Chicago. They are Alvin Fulker, chairman of the county board, Gus A. Zuehlke, president of the Appleton Chamber of Commerce, and Pifer, who also will speak at the landing celebration.

10-Minute Stop
The landing ceremonies are expected to take 10 or 15 minutes, and arrangements are being made to have the flight leave Milwaukee a few minutes early. Ordinarily, the stop will take only three minutes.

Flight 451 will leave Chicago at 9:30 a. m. each day, including Sunday, going to Milwaukee, Appleton, Clintonville, Stevens Point, Eau Claire and Minneapolis, arriving there at 1:29 p. m.

Formerly the flight, including stops at Manitowish and Green Bay, but they have been cancelled.

Return Flight
The southbound flight will originate in Minneapolis at 10:30 a. m., arrive in Appleton at 12:54 p. m. and in Chicago at 2:23 p. m.

Other celebrations for the inaugural flight include a cocktail party at 5:30 p. m. June 30 at North Shore Golf club for Fox Cities businessmen given by the airline company.

North Central's Appleton station manager already is on the job. He is Robert Meyer, formerly of Oshkosh, who will be in charge of supervising North Central activities here.

'Y' Announces Staff Change In Youth Den

William L. Harris, 38, Granite City, Ill., has been named youth director of the YMCA Terrords den, effective Sept. 1. His appointment was announced by Harold Adams, 'Y' president.

He will replace Carl Bruno who has taken a position as youth director at the Racine YMCA.

Harris was 'Y' director at Granite City. He is married and has three children. He attended St. Louis university where he received his B. S. degree in sociology, psychology and philosophy. Harris also attended Washington university where he studied group work. The new director had been assistant personnel supervisor for American Steel Foundry corporation.

His duties will include supervision of a building program for boys, club activities and camping program.

$22,000 Remodeling Slated for Old Muir Drug Store Building

A city permit for an estimated $22,000 remodeling of the old Muir Drug Store site, 100-2 E. College avenue, was obtained today by Foundation Investment corporation.

It is understood Grace's Apparel shop will move into the corner location from 110-112 N. Oneida street and there will be doorways from inside its store connecting with the French Supper shop, 102 E. College.

Wins 9th Straight Term to Break Old Tenure Record

San Francisco — By a 66-vote margin, Dr. John W. Behnken, 73, of St. Louis, remained in office today as president of the Lutheran church—Missouri synod's 21 million members for a precedent-shattering ninth straight term of three years.

The staunch advocate of strict adherence to Lutheran doctrine won out on the fourth ballot Thursday, 377-311, at the synod's 44th convention. He beat down the unexpected challenge of Dr. Oliver Harms, 57, a vice president from Houston, Texas.

Dr. Behnken's 24-year tenure had tied the presidential record of Dr. Fred Pfotenhauer and the pre-convention talk had been that he faced no serious opposition.

No Affiliation Seen

Asked if the four ballots surprised him, Dr. Behnken provoked laughter as saying "only the last one." He strongly suggested there were no immediate plans for affiliation with the Lutheran World federation, to which four-fifths of the world's Lutherans belong.

Prior to the vote, Dr. Behnken told the convention that the synod must adhere to "doctrinal purity," rather than compromise in the interests of merger and enlargement.

The synod's board of higher education projection recommended that 60 per cent of $30,390,000 be spent in the next six years on expanding present campuses and 40 per cent on building new ones.

Ellenbeckers To Open New Furniture Store

A new Ellenbecker Furniture store will be opened late in July or early August at 115 E. College avenue. James and John Ellenbecker said today.

Barbara Kamps, owner of the building, was issued a $500 remodeling permit by the city to renovate the front of the store to the Ellenbeckers' specifications.

The store will stock general home furnishings and at first will occupy one floor of the 28 by 90 foot building.

Ellenbeckers had operated a furniture store until a year and a half ago.

St. Therese Plans $71,000 Addition, Remodeling Project

St. Therese Catholic church today received a city permit for an estimated $71,000 addition to its rectory and remodeling of its school entrance.

Plans at the building inspector's office show the 1-story rectory addition will provide three offices, a bedroom and stairs to the basement on the first floor and five rooms in the basement for laundry, sewing, boiler, storage and recreation.

The present school entrance on Wisconsin avenue will be closed and steps into the school constructed on either side of the old entrance.

Curling Club Buys Land on Motel Site

The new Appleton Curling club rink will be constructed next to the proposed Holiday Inn motel on Winnebago County Trunk U just south of the Outagamie county line.

Officials of the BKM Realty company said today.

The club is arranging for the purchase of three acres of land on the 16-acre site already sold to the Holiday Inn company. The club property will have 200 feet of highway frontage and will extend 650 feet in from the road.

Purchase price was $3,000 an acre.

The curling club will give back a second mortgage on the property to the Holiday Inn and BKM company, paying $1 a year for 15 years towards retirement of the debt. In 15 years, the club must begin to retire the outstanding debt.

Officials of both the Holiday Inn and the curling club hope to begin construction in July.

No Alternative

Nelson Asserts Legislature Has No Choice but to Create New County

BY JACK HOLZHUETER
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

The legislature will have no choice but to create the proposed Menominee county, Gov. Geylord A. Nelson said in Appleton Thursday.

If the state fails to terminate federal guardianship as ordered by congress, then the federal government will step into what Nelson called a "state problem, which should be settled by the state and not the national government."

The Menominee county plan hit a snag in the assembly judiciary committee Wednesday when leaders hinted that they have grave doubts about the proposal to set aside the present Indian reservation as a separate county.

Chairman W. W. Ward grumbled that his committee was not given enough time to consider the legislation.

No Alternative

The governor said, however, that he thought the plan had been very carefully worked out over a long period of time (four years) and that it should be mutually satisfactory.

"There's no reasonable alternative," he declared.

He said also that the state should revise all of the corrupt practices statutes it has enacted. Nelson claimed that the Catlin law repeal was a step in that direction.

The state has just started to enact sensible, efficient and effective controls on campaign expenses, he said. The Catlin law forbids union from donating money to campaign funds. Nelson promised in his campaign that the law would be repealed if he were elected.

Sees Budget Agreement
Nelson expressed confidence that Republicans and Democrats could work out an effective budget agreement.

Kimberly Man Hurt In Race Car Crash
Marlin Weyenberg, 32, 241 S. James street, Kimberly, was hospitalized Thursday with back injuries received in an auto mishap during races at the Outagamie county speedway.

Weyenberg was injured when a race car went out of control into the pits. He fell Bona, and Abbot Emanuel Gisquiere, O. Praem head of the Averbode, Belgium, antique W. R. Winch.

He was taken to Appleton Memorial hospital by Larry's ambulance.

"The Republicans know that the fall term drew criticism from Republicans. They submitted a second-year budget, which he calls completely inadequate to carry on the continuing programs of the state. A satisfactory budget will be drawn up during the fall term of the legislature, Nelson insisted.

He said that even though some legislators scoff at his $200 million school building proposals that "the building will have to be built." He referred especially to the University of Wisconsin in Milwaukee.

U-W-M Problem
Even if the present building program is enacted and the buildings go up on the U-W-M campus, the university there will be just as crowded in 1961 as it is now, he claimed.

If the state is going to continue to have schools, Nelson said, it will have to build buildings.

The governor avoided answering questions about the impressions that Sens. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota and John Kennedy of Massachusetts made on their recent tours through the state, feeling out the presidential primary situation.

When asked what kind of impression the men made on their listeners and which of them had gained the most support on his tour, the governor said that each of the men had been received enthusiastically. He refused to comment on the support they gained.

Green Bay—Messages containing congratulations from President Eisenhower and the apostolic blessing of Pope John XIII climaxed a dinner following dedication rites at the new St. Norbert abbey in De Pere Thursday.

The dinner followed a mass of thanksgiving celebrated by Bishop Stanislaus V. Bona of Green Bay. More than 40 members of the Catholic hierarchy from the United States, Canada and Europe and 400 superiors of religious orders and clergymen attended the mass in the abbey church. Gov. Geylord Nelson was among the guests.

In a telegram read by the Rev. D. M. Burke, O. Praem, St. Norbert college president, President Eisenhower said: "Sign of Vitality"

"I am pleased to send greetings to those who are in attendance at the dedication of the new St. Norbert abbey. This fine building stands as a visual sign of the vitality of youth faith and work. As headquarters for your schools, churches and affiliated institutions, I am sure it will enjoy a splendid future of inspired service. Congratulations and best wishes."

The cablegram from the pope extended his apostolic blessing to those connected with the work of the Norbertine order.

Among the speakers at the dinner were Archbishop Wil-2 Kiel, who was fined $10, for driving while drunk and $50 both General Hubert A. Noots for disorderly conduct. He was arrested by a county patrolman Sunday night. He was un- anie to take the drunkometer test. He appeared before Justice W. R. Winch.

Raymond S. Meyer, 52, route 3 Plymouth, was fined $100 by Justice Leo Karmesner. Meyer was arrested June 2.

Shea Expects 3rd Big League To be Organized by July 15

Operational Target Date Is 1961; New York Is Identified Franchise

BY JACK HAND

New York — Baseball's third major league has three target dates. In 1960, it hopes to line up its player talent. In 1961, it plans to start operation. By 1962, it thinks it can compete with the existing majors in some type of series.

"First things have to come first," said Bill Shea, chairman of Major League Baseball's committee and a prime factor in lining up the proposed new baseball league.

"The most important thing is to get organized. We expect to do that before July 15. We expect to be in operation by 1961. It is my idea that by 1962 we should be able to compete with the other leagues on an even basis."

Incurable Optimist

Shea, of course, is an incurable optimist. He spoke Thursday at a news conference called to announce the names of the three most important backers of the New York franchise.

One of those associated with the proposed New York team, Donald Grant, a member of the board of directors of the San Francisco Giants, disclosed that a nucleus of league cities already exists. He said they are screening other applicants.

However, all concerned refused to identify the other cities. Just how far the work-ers in other cities have gone is difficult to establish. Shea said they would be identifying themselves within a few weeks.

Toronto, Minneapolis - St. Paul, Houston, Fort Worth - Dallas and New York have been the cities most frequently mentioned in connection with the third league.

Jake Cooke, Toronto owner, conferred with Shea last week in New York.

"We'll know if we're in when Mr. Shea makes his announcement in New York," said Rudy Schaffer, general manager of the Toronto club of the International league.

Gerald Moore, chairman of the Minneapolis Major League Baseball committee, said investors in prospective teams probably would be identified in 10 days.

In Dallas, Stanley McVane, general manager of the Dallas club of the American association, said: "We are definitely interested in a major league franchise and have informed Shea that we are ready to meet at any time to discuss it."

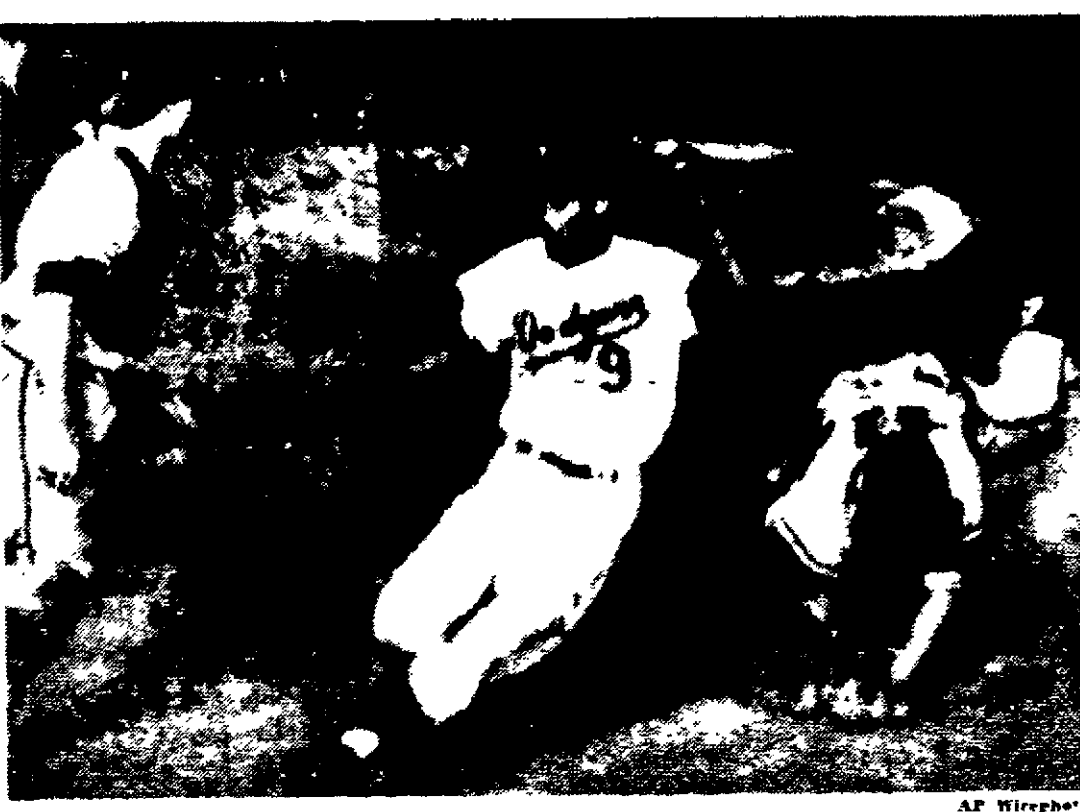

Owners in Groups

The New York owners, disclosed by Shea, were listed in three groups, each of which would have a third interest. He said their interest is coming upon the city's building a new ballpark on the old World's Fair site in Flushing Meadows. Mayor Wagner has said the city would build such a park if a league is formed with responsible backing.

Mrs. Charles Payson, sister of John Hay Whitney, U. S. ambassador to Britain, heads one group with which Grant is connected.

Mrs. Dorothy Killam, often identified with efforts to buy the old Brooklyn Dodgers before they moved to Los Angeles, heads another group.

Dwight Davis, whose father donated tennis' famous Davis cup, is linked with George Walker, whose father founded golf's Walker cup, in the third group.

Braves Third Baseman Eddie Mathews falls to the ground after tagging Dodger Wally Moon on the base line near home plate during Milwaukee's 7-6 victory at Los Angeles Thursday night. Mathews fielded a grounder by Gil Hodges and tagged Moon, trying to score from third. Braves catcher Del Crandall watches the action.

son. A walk to Eddie Mathews with the bases filled gave the Braves their fourth run in that inning.

Milwaukee made it 7-0 in the fourth, on Covington's single and Crandall's home run, his tenth of the season.

Subway Softball Team to Play at Shiocton Friday

Appleton's Subway Bar softball team makes its next start at Shiocton Friday night at 8 p. m. against the Shiocton City team in search of its twelfth win in 13 starts.

Subway's latest victory was a 7-2 success over Menasha's Gibson Motor company Wednesday night in Appleton. Bob Diener picked up the victory and slapped a home run in his own behalf. B. Nau was the loser.

Don Bodway also homered for the victors.

Fox Cities Tournament Will Open Saturday

challenges from the best of six Fox Cities clubs or courses — including a small but select group of friendly rivals from his own club.

Other BDM Threats

The six BDM threats to Lindberg are Don Strutz, whose 1956 and 1957 Fox Cities wins are among the numerous golfing honors he's won in the last dozen years; Don Jabas, 1955 Fox Cities champ; John Hayes, 1953 state amateur king; Jim McDonald, 1959 Adler Brau tourney champion; Dan Steinberg, Fox Cities runnerup in '55; and Ferrel.

In addition, Jabas and Strutz teamed to win the NEWGA best ball title last week at the Fox Valley club. The third time was the charm for the pair who had finished as runnersup twice in recent years.

Both Ferrel — one of the brightest of the young stars — and Lindberg will have to do better than they did in 1957 if they hope to repeat their 1958 success this weekend. The last time the tourney was played at Ridgeway and Muni, Ferrel posted a 167 and Lindberg a 168.

Team Reign Periled

Ridgeway, which has won the team crown in both of its co-host years (1954 and '57), perils not only BDM's team reign but has a number of individual title contenders. They include Herb Stinski, the only non-BDM individual champ to date; Charlie Steingraber, the tourney's only 2-time runnerup; Chet Bland, who has finished third or tied for third in four of the five tourneys; Harley Loker and Elmer Selig.

Fox Valley's leading threats include Bob Derus, oft-times club champ and a perennial high finisher in the Fox Cities meets; Wayne Hull a co-third placer in the Post-Crescent tourney two years ago; Tom Dupont, former St. Norbert golfing star; and Lew Cattanach.

Hearkening the Bridgwood color-bearers are Richard O'Brien, who placed eighth in a field of 98 in last year's tourney; Harold Kloss and Tod Barnes.

Making Reid Muni tough in individual and team competition will be such shot-markers as Al Beerenwald, 3-time Appleton city champ; Syd Bayman, 2-time Appleton city title; Don Sprague, who set the Brown county course record of 68 this spring; and Tom McKenny, returning to tourney action after a several years' absence. (McKenny helped Ridgeway win the team title in 1954.)

McGuire Back

The only North Shore participants are Bill McGuire, returning to the tourney after an absence, and J. B. Williams, who finished in the tourney's upper strata last year. (McGuire helped Ridgeway to capture team honors in the inaugural tournament of the series and helped BDM win the baseball team at Milwaukee's Pius XI High school.

The public is invited to witness the tournament.

Foxes' Johnston Needs Apartment

A 2-bedroom furnished apartment is urgently needed by the Foxes new first baseman Jim Johnston.

Johnston, who hit 29 home runs in the Three-I league two seasons ago and is currently batting .419 for the Foxes, is married and has one child. His wife's 12-year-old brother also plans to live here.

The Foxes have obtained Johnston from the New York Yankee farm system on option.

ness both days of play, free of charge.

Tourney officials reserve the right to scratch golfers more than two minutes late for their scheduled tee-off times.

If either day's play is eliminated by inclement weather, 18 holes will constitute the tourney, and prizes will be awarded accordingly.

Survey Indicates 30 Per Cent Know Of Conelrad Setup

Thirty per cent of the people interviewed in a civil defense survey knew the meaning of the phrase "Conelrad 640-1240," national CD headquarters says.

The survey was made by a private research firm just before Operation Alert this year.

The staff interviewed 1,252 men and 1,273 women. Men tended to know more about Conelrad than women. Most knowledge of Conelrad was demonstrated by people in the 18-34 age bracket. Ratio of understanding was related to income groups of $10,000 per year and above.

Madison—Gov. Gaylord Nelson Thursday signed into law a bill permitting water diversion for agricultural irrigation another two years.

The senate measure, considered a compromise between radio wave lengths to be turned off during national civil defense drills—640 and 1240.

agricultural and conservation interests, was passed by the assembly, 81 to 1 a week ago. It would extend a temporary statute, enacted two years ago, which permits irrigation on certain non-riparian lands.

New permits would not be required under the new law. It also contains a provision permitting the state conservation department to veto certain permits affecting trout streams.

Lawrence Says: Plane Incident May Arouse the Free World

Critics Should Hit Soviet Actions, Not Naval Authorities

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington — So the American plane was unable to return the fire of the enemy planes! What a strange impact this has had on congress. One would have thought there would be a great deal of indignation expressed against the enemy's wanton act. Instead, an avalanche of criticism was directed against the navy for allowing a plane assigned to a reconnaissance mission to be without adequate armament. But wasn't the American plane's peaceful errand thereby emphasized?

One might infer that congress is ready to say that unidentified planes in the Far East should be destroyed when they open fire. Yet if anyone were to suggest that an enemy plane be pursued to its base and punishment inflicted on the base from which the plane came, this would be denounced as an action likely to bring on a full-fledged war.

The attack on the American plane occurred on the high seas far from any territorial waters. Under international law any plane of any country has a right to travel. The bombardment of the American plane was a hostile act. It was an act of war. It was an attack on the American flag.

Congressional Stand

What will congress do about it? Will those same members who are so ready to criticize the navy because its plane had its armament removed to make way for reconnaissance equipment now stand ready to demand redress from the communist country which started the shooting? Will there be any group of congressmen who will advocate that diplomatic relations with the Kremlin be severed, since that government is primarily responsible for what its allies — Red China and North Korea — do?

It was Russian MIG fighter planes which attacked the U. S. Navy plane. The survivors of the attack say they saw a red star on one of the enemy planes.

Will the department of state send a note to the Soviet government holding it to a strict accountability for its act in the Far East? There was a time when America resented attacks on its citizens traveling the high seas. It was this very issue which caused the United States to enter World war I.

Create Tension

There has been some suggestion that the incident was provoked to have bearing on the Geneva conference by creating new tensions. Whoever thought up the plan could not have known American psychology. This occurrence can only lessen the chances of a summit meeting. The western allies will not be bludgeoned into holding conferences under duress.

The episode illustrates the dangers that prevail in the Far East where the irresponsible communist governments of Red China and North Korea can at any moment upset the peace of the world and apparently hide their identities. That's why it is so important to hold the Soviet government responsible for what its allies in Asia do.

Inside congress, of course, the main reason for the debate on the navy's alleged negligence is political. Democrats were quick to jump on the administration as being unprepared for military emergencies. Republicans naturally felt they had to demand an explanation from the navy as to why some well-armed planes were not sent along to escort the plane that was equipped primarily with reconnaissance apparatus.

Will Escort Planes

The decision now will be to escort all such patrol planes. Will this lessen the chance of a conflict? Who is to say which side fired first? Sometimes it isn't wise to wait for the other fellow to swoop down on your plane and open fire. It's better to intercept or ward off the attacker. In a sense the whole incident reflects what can happen on a large scale as unidentified planes bearing atomic weapons could suddenly drop their cargo of death. It would be difficult to establish which country sent a plane on such a terrible mission.

Problems involved in the latest episode are not new. They have been dealt with at Geneva on the subject of surprise attack. Unhappily they haven't produced any favorable result, largely because of an indifferent public opinion. Maybe the communist MIGs that assaulted the navy's reconnaissance plane performed a service after all in arousing the free world to the danger of appeasing the Soviet dictatorship.

Fond du Lac Site For State Truck Drivers Roadshow

Wisconsin's 1959 truck roadshow will be held in Fond du Lac this weekend and state truck drivers have been invited to take a series of tests on an obstacle course at the Fond du Lac county fairgrounds.

All roadshow contestants must submit proof they have had no accidents during the past year before entering competition.

The tests will consist of written exams, spotting of equipment defects in tractors and trailers and elimination trials all day Saturday.

Included in last year's list of winners was Fred Liebman, Green Bay, a driver for Northern Transportation company.

Conway Hotel To Have New Phone System

Enables Placing of Outside Calls by Direct Dialing

A new dial telephone system will be one of the features at the new Conway hotel, owner John Conway has announced. It will be the second installation of its kind in a Wisconsin hotel.

The complex system will be installed by the Wisconsin Telephone company, and equipment will be similar to that found in a telephone central office, normally sufficient to furnish a community of over 1,000 people with service.

The equipment will accommodate about 200 telephones for administrators and guests. Through the new system, local and long distance calls can be dialed without going through the hotel switchboard.

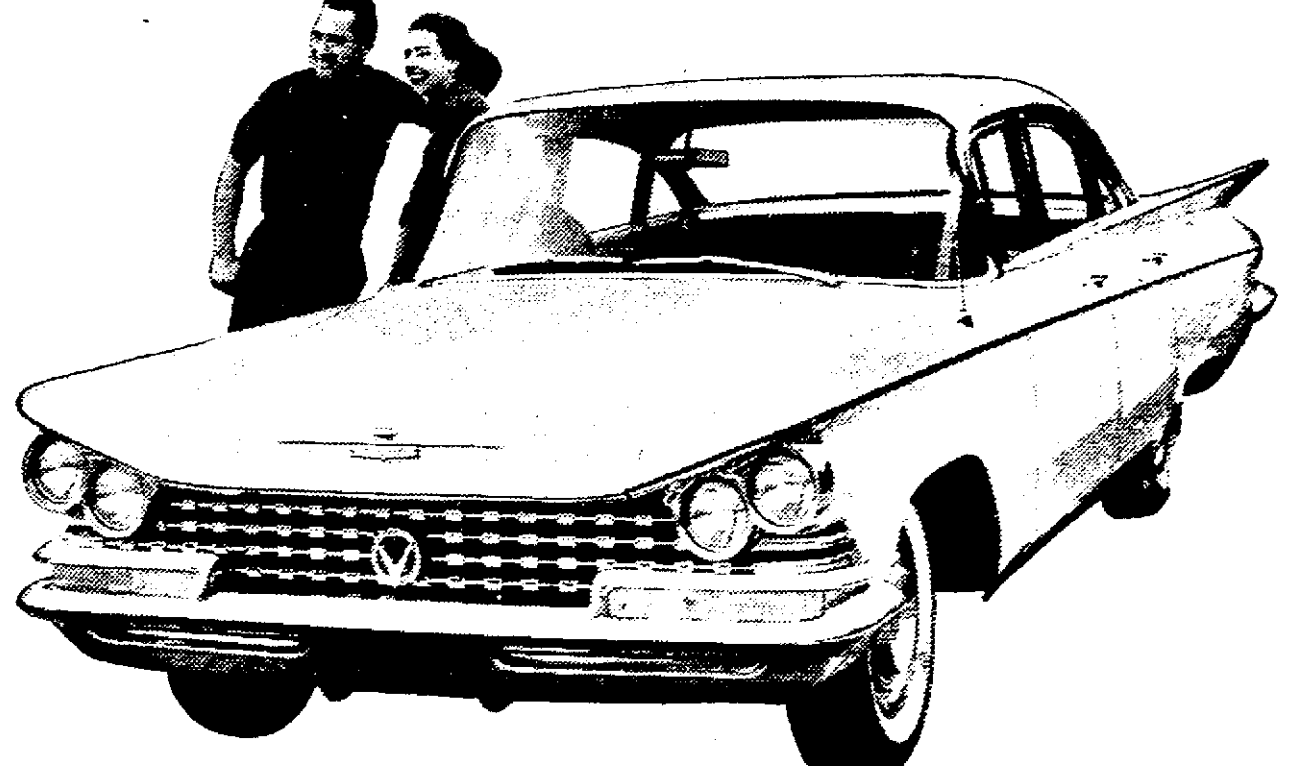

Richard C. Van Sistine, local manager for the telephone company, explained some of the unique features of the system. "When a guest makes a long distance call from the hotel, he will merely dial '3' and give the number he is calling to the telephone company's long distance operator. When the calling party at the hotel dials '6', he will select a special circuit between the hotel and the telephone company toll switchboard. This is required on a dial installation so that calls from the hotel can be identified. The operator will report the charges to the hotel switchboard after the call is completed."

"If a guest wants to place a local call," Van Sistine said, "he will dial '9', listen for the dial tone, and dial the number. A third feature of the system will enable the guest to contact room service by dialing the number '7'." The new dial system will be installed in the existing 111 rooms as well as the 72 rooms in the addition under construction.

All rooms will be furnished with a colored telephone to harmonize with the decor of the room. Outgoing guest calls will be expedited directly to the telephone company central office without the assistance of the hotel operator. With the elimination of this traffic from the hotel switchboard, the hotel operator will be in a position to improve incoming call service.

Dogs Kill $1,400 Worth of Pullets

Neenah — Dogs early this morning caused about $1,200 to $1,400 damage on the Bud Salm farm on County Trunk AG, about five miles west of here. The animals got into the brooder pen and killed about 600 to 700 chickens valued at $1.80 to $2 each. The pullets were four months old. One of the dogs was shot but the others escaped. Salm said. Town officials inspected the damage this morning.

Telephone Cables Found Punctured

Oshkosh — Two telephone cables along County Trunk BB in the town of Menasha were found punctured by 22 caliber rifle shots. Robert Pomroy, Appleton, a supervisor for the A and T, reported to the sheriff's department Wednesday. Pomroy said one of the cables was damaged Tuesday morning and the other on Wednesday. He told authorities that he saw several boys speed away from the area Wednesday morning and he obtained a license number.

$14,300 Bid Lowest for Air Conditioning

Committee Studies Alternates in Cost Of Terminal Project

Oshkosh — Bids for air conditioning of the airport terminal were opened by the state aeronautics commission and the aviation committee of the county board this morning with the low base bid being $14,300. That was submitted by Bassett Refrigeration company, Inc., of Appleton. The other base bids were $14,322 by E. C. Merrill, Inc., Oshkosh, and $14,862 by R. Wenzel company, Appleton. However, prices were taken on five alternates which could reduce or increase the cost by sizable amounts and make a difference in the final low bid. The committee discussed these alternates this morning and will meet again Saturday afternoon to seek a decision. One alternate could reduce the bids $748 for Merrill, $702 for Wenzel and $490 for Bassett. The second alternate could result in cutting the bids $1,200 for Merrill, $1,048 for Wenzel and $1,820 for Bassett. A third alternate would result in reductions of $990 for Bassett, $1,000 for Wenzel and $1,175 for Merrill. Increases of $1,145 for Merrill and $1,250 for Wenzel out a reduction of $82 in Bassett's bid would be accomplished by using the fourth alternate. No change would be made in Wenzel's and Merrill's bids for the fifth alternate but would cut Bassett's bid by $125. The alternates dealt with areas to be covered by the air conditioning and controls and equipment used.

Macs, Oshkosh Vie in Non-Loop Encounter

Menasha Squad In Bid for 4th Successive Win

Menasha — The Menasha Macs will try to pick up their fourth straight victory when they entertain Oshkosh at 6 p.m. Saturday in a non-league game at the Menasha ball park.

The Macs, since dropping an 8-6 decision to unbeaten

Little Chute - Kimberly, have routed Harrison, defeated Hortonville and tipped Manitowoc.

Although Oshkosh competes in the Fox River Valley league, the game will be an exhibition test. The Macs have lined up several such encounters against Valley league and area foes instead of playing their usual extensive non-league schedule against teams from Milwaukee, Marinette, Racine, etc.

Saturday's foes get together in league play here on July 5.

Oshkosh has had trouble getting started in league play and has a 1-3 record, although it hasn't been outclassed in any of its contests.

It has a nucleus of veteran performers including Larry Gauger, George Mohr, Ken VanderVelden, Paul Moylan, and Bob Miller, plus Len Heininger, who played with the Macs last year and Ron Inouye, the little Hawaiian, who batted better than .500 for this year's Oshkosh State college nine.

Gene Gries or Tom Balthazor is expected to hurt for the Macs with the alternate, Vic Stenson and Jim Meyer available for unbeaten Kaukauna Sunday.

Since Oshkosh meets L-C 1029 N. State street, Appleton, probably will hurl against the Macs with the veteran Bob Manthey being saved for the unbeaten villagers.

Jungwirth Rolls 552 Trio for Honors in Mixed Bowling Loop

Neenah — Lou Jungwirth collected a 552 series to lead in the way in the Bowling Clinic Mixed Couples Bowling league Thursday night at Lakeroad Lanes. Bob Barr missed an honor total of 550 by one pin.

Women's laurels were claimed by Bert Neubauer with her 196 game and 530 series.

The Bones team won two games and leads with an 11-4 record. Crutches, losers of three, is second with 10-5.

Perfect Hand

Menasha — John W. Stoffel had a perfect 29 hand in cribbage while playing with Erv-

Mac with the veteran Bob Manthey being saved for the unbeaten villagers.

Packagers Gain Tie for Second Place

TWIN CITY INDUSTRIAL LEAGUE (National Division)

Team	W	L	W L
Packagers	5	1	W 5, L 1
Lakeview	4	2	W 4, L 2
Foundry	4	2	W 4, L 2

Thursday's Results:
Packagers 9, Bergstrom's 8.
Gilbert's 12, Foundry 5.

Neenah — The Marathon Packagers moved back into a tie for second place in the National division of the Twin City Industrial Softball league by edging Bergstrom's 9-8 Thursday night at Jefferson park.

Gilbert Paper notched a 12-5 verdict over Neenah Foundry in the division's Neenah Recreation field fracas.

The Packagers, who now Bridgeview course, the Re-have 4-2 to deadlock Lakeview for the runnerup spot behind place in the Gilbert Paper the Ramblers, scored eight runs in the fifth inning and won with one in the seventh. Bergstrom's recorded three in the second, four in the third and one in the sixth.

The 8-run frame came on two hits, both by Reinert, seven walks and a hit batsman. Hits by Bob Rayford and Reinert and an error gave the winners their seventh inning tally.

The Packagers only made six hits and received nine walks. Bergstrom's had nine hits and six walks. Bob Mul-ski of Resource next on his rooney was the winning pitcher and Cliff Brinkman took the loss.

Jim Vandenberg and Reinert each had two hits for the Packagers and Bill Bedard and Fuchman had two each for Bergstrom's.

Gilbert's had a 7-run third in topping Neenah Foundry. It posted two in the first and three in the fifth. Foundry came up with a run in the first and four in the second.

The winners had an 11-5 hit edge. Carmen Brennefeldt, Jerry Jeffery, Bob Hanke and George Bonack all had two hits for Gilbert's and "Bud" Van made two for the losers.

Was cold, Yankee calculation the inspiration for the clipper ship—the fastest and fastest of all sailing vessels? Calculation of profits that might accrue to the ship that would sail the fastest to the California gold fields, to the ports of China or to the lands down under?

Calculation certainly had much to do with the building of clipper ships during a brief ten-year span just about a century ago. But perhaps the most important factor was the growing mania of Americans for speed at sea.

For a lyrical account of the development of the clippers and their brief moments of glory and beauty and world domination, as told by Alan Villiers,

Last of Royal Family

Great Ethel Had Pride In Barrymore Name

BY BOB THOMAS

Hollywood.—Here's what it was like to interview Ethel Barrymore in the sunset of her life—

You arrive at her apartment on a Beverly Hills side street, a few doors from bustling Wilshire boulevard. You are surprised at how modest the place is for the great lady of the American theater. Then enduring happiness in life, you realize that wealth does not always accompany great fame, especially at the end of an acting career.

You are greeted by Sammy Colt, a good-natured, balding man of middle age, who says

To the public, the Ethel Barrymore was the imperial queen of America's greatest acting family, cool and crisp. She played that role both on the stage and in private life. So great was her artistry that she almost hid the fact that she also was a human being and a woman. In two articles, the first of which follows, AP Columnist Bob Thomas provides a close-up of both the legend and the woman.

her mother will see you shortly. During the wait, you study the downstairs living room, furnished in simple, good taste. There is a framed photograph of John Barrymore, looking an electric Adonis at the height of his acting career.

Sammy returns and ushers you up the stairs to the bedroom. You are left alone with a legend.

Miss Barrymore is in the pink satin bed, but she sits with back upright. Her hair is white and beautifully groomed. You can scarcely believe from her smooth face that she is nearly 80. Most of all, you notice the eyes, those burning coals that fix on you demandingly.

Then you hear that voice. What a voice! Sounding more like an echo, she asks you in flat tones: "Well, what is it that you want to know?"

You smile, remembering from past encounters that her frigid manner can be thawed. You start asking about the things she likes to discuss best—baseball, the theater, her brother Jack, her grandchildren.

She confesses that she has been watching her old movies on TV. This despite her long the refusal to see herself on the screen—"Why should I never saw myself on the stage?"

Dreaded Interviews

How did she react to her performances? "I wasn't too greatly upset."

In time, you feel brave enough to ask how she likes interviews. She replies firmly that she doesn't and explains that she was too often misquoted in her youth.

"I got so I dreaded interviews," she says. "You might say I was gun-shy."

You know better than to extend this interview beyond its normal span. So you make a quick adieu and are rewarded for your brevity by a smile from the great lady.

This was my last encounter with Ethel Barrymore, whose heart gave out Thursday, two months before her 80th birthday. To the end, she displayed to outsiders the cool, dignified figure as ruler of the theater's royal family.

Role for Public View

That was the role she created for public view, and she played it to the hilt. She was jealous of her family's name and reacted with a Victorian "We are not amused" when the Barrymore name dipped into scandal. Her own behavior was considered impeccable.

This cloak of dignity almost hid a warm human being. Being an actress, she could not help but be emotional, and the one great love of her life was shattered when her marriage tended in divorce court. A devoted Catholic, she chose not to remarry. The bitterness of the situation colored her later years.

You arrive at her apartment on a Beverly Hills side street, a few doors from bustling Wilshire boulevard. You are surprised at how modest the place is for the great lady of the American theater. Then enduring happiness in life, you realize that wealth does not always accompany great fame, especially at the end of an acting career.

Crosby Best Character in New Movie

'Say One for Me' Has Sentimentality In Large Doses

Bing Crosby, playing his old reliable role as a Catholic priest who knows how to solve peoples' personal problems, is far and above the dominant character in "Say One for Me," a new movie showing at the Viking theater.

With a few of the old nostalgic songs that made "Der Bingle" so popular and a romance between Robert Wagner and sweet, sophisticated Debbie Reynolds, the single feature is well worth seeing for the person who likes his sentimentality in large doses.

Crosby is a Catholic priest working in a crowded New York parish, a smidgeon the size of St. Patrick's Cathedral. College-educated Debbie Reynolds, one of his parishioners, has helped him stage several benefits at the church for charitable causes.

Catches Wagner's Eye

When her father becomes ill, she saunters into a slightly disreputable nightclub and catches Robert Wagner's eye. Wagner, playing the obnoxious, wolfish night club operator, tries to start some extracurricular activity with Debbie.

As the plot gets a little more involved, a monsignor asks Crosby to help produce a nationally televised variety show for charitable purposes because Crosby's parish is in the heart of the theater district.

Wagner, anxious to "get to the top of the heap," does a refusal to see herself on the screen—"Why should I never saw myself on the stage?"

Other Ingredients

Throw in some stirring church scenes, a couple of good dance numbers, an alcoholic piano player who finally ditches the bottle, and Christ-

The Movie, "Say One for Me," stars Bing Crosby in his first role as a priest since "The Bells of St. Mary's." Here he poses with Robert Wagner in one of the scenes from the movie in which Debbie Reynolds also is a co-star. The movie filmed in cinemascope and color, now is playing at the Viking theater.

Policeman Saves 150 Dogs From Grass Fire

Los Angeles.—Policeman Kenneth Shipp had the doggedest time fighting a grass fire yesterday.

He hastily reported the blaze after spotting it heading for a large wooden house. In the backyard, he found about 50 dogs in kennels. He freed them and heaved each one over the fence to safety.

Then Shipp broke down the front door—and found the house full of dogs in kennels. More than 100, he estimated. It took him 15 minutes to empty the building.

After the fire was out, Shipp rounded up all the dogs. He never did learn the name of the kennel owner. Didn't have time.

mas scenes and you have an adequate movie.

The moral of the story, highlighted in a song by Crosby, is that Christmas ornaments and tinsels are not just for December 25. The real Spirit of Christmas lies in the daily, good acts of everyone.
